

American Fables for the POLITICALLY INCORRECT

CARL CHARBONNET

DIOGENES LOOKING FOR AN EDUCATED MAN

AMERICAN FABLES
for the Politically Incorrect

by Carl Charbonnet

Dust jacket art and illustrations by: Jeff Gregory

American de Tocqueville Press
P.O. Box 130088
Birmingham, Alabama 35213 U. S. A.

This book is fiction. The type of fiction is satire with good doses of irony and allegory thrown in.

Most of the names were pulled out of the air. For those names there was no intent to identify real people. Some names are of real people. All the real people are, or were when living, famous persons.

Copyright © 1996 by Carl Charbonnet
All rights reserved

American de Tocqueville Press,
P.O. Box 130088
Birmingham, Alabama 35213 U. S. A.

Printed in the United States of America
First printing November 1995

Charbonnet, Carl

American Fables for the Politically Incorrect / Carl Charbonnet
ISBN 0-9648786-0-7

1. Humor. 2 Fables, modern. 3 Satire, Political.
4 Philosophy, Political. 5 Philosophy, moral.

Contents

I	San Francisco: The City That Could Have Been	1
II	Nutrition	9
III	The So What, Who Cares Hedonist	13
IV	The Ants and the Grasshopper	23
V	Propaganda	33
VI	The Prophet	35
VII	Margi's Problem	47
VIII	The Good Abortionist	59
IX	Morality Cannot be Legislated	61
X	Arms	73
XI	Diogenes	81
XII	Art	109
XIII	The Water Shortage	113
XIV	Adie	117
XV	Woodpecker	123
XVI	The Pilgrims	129
XVII	Quality of Life	133
XVIII	The Invention of Language	149
XIX	Robbers	157
XX	Tabloids at the Check-Out Counter	171
XXI	Promises, Promises	175

List of Illustrations

The Unbiased Journalist	32
The Good Abortionist	58
Diogenes	80
The First Word	148