Creighton Talent to Star in 'Capers'

Life Placed in Cornerstone Mementos of Fr. Deglman's

The Rev. Francis G. Deglman, S. J., is dead, but his life as a Jesuit is well represented by the newly laid cornerstone of Deglman hall.

The Very Rev. Carl M. Reinert, S. J., president of Creighton, and the Rev. George A. Deglmar, S. J., brother of the late Father Deglman, troweled in the mortar to seal the cornerstone at the dedication ceremony last Friday.

But before the cornerstone was laid in place, a few items were included to signify Father Deglman's three phases of life as a Jesuit—prayer, work and play.

His prayer life is represented by statuettes of the Blessed Virgin Mary and the Guardian Angel and medals of St. Ignatius, Pope Pius X and Pope Pius XII. These were Father Deglman's favorite helps in his spiritual life.

A stole, a sodality medal and pin and a copy of the Creightonian containing his weekly column signify his work life. Father Deglman was moderator of the sodality and wrote the Student Counselor's column in the Creightonian for many years before his death.

Two of his recreational past-times filled his play life, playing

Pep Club to Discuss Trip

At a special meeting next Monday evening members of the Pep club will discuss the kick-off of ticket sales for the student trip to Vermillion, S. D., Jan. 7.

The Pep club is arranging the trip as a sequel to last year's student trip to Des Moines, Ia., for the Drake University - Creighton basketball game. On that trip, over 150 students traveled.

When the students return from Vermillion, they will hear Mass in St. John's church, then have breakfast in the Beanery, for Jan. 8 is a Sunday.

This year, the Pep club figures that five dollars will cover the cost of the trip and the game admission for each student. Students will travel by buses, which the Pep club has engaged. Number of students will be limited, however, because of the limited facilities.

South Dakota university announced that admission to the game will be $1.00 per student. Before the game they will serve dinner for $.87.

Therefore, according to Mike Barry, president of the Pep club, students who plan to travel to Vermillion for the South Dakota-Creighton game should get their tickets right away. If they can't afford tickets right away, a dollar down payment will hold a ticket for them.

Members of the Pep club will sell tickets.

Checks Cashed

Students will be able to cash checks at the cashier's window in the university business office from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Mondays through Fridays and from 10 to 11:30 a. m. on Saturdays starting Dec. 15, Ed Murphy, business manager, has announced.

Cribbage and reading western novels. They are represented by a deck of cards, a Cribbage board and a western novel.

Other items included to represent the gentle priest are his "In Memoriam" card, a summary of a citation that he received in October of 1953 and the dedication scroll for the cornerstone laying ceremony.

Dr. Nielson Gives Speech

Dr. P. Raymond Nielson, director of the department of history and acting dean of the Graduate school, spoke to the Professional Men's club, Monday night at the Athletic club.

Debaters to Take Part in Meet

Creighton debaters are participating in the Omaha university tournament today and tomorrow. Two debate teams and participants in the discussion and extemporaneous sections will compete against schools from the Midwest.

Mary Ann Beaton, A3, Joy Berkheimer, A2, Jerry O'Kief, A2, and Jay Welsh, A2, will debate the national topic of guaranteed annual wage. Susan Carey, A2, Jerry O'Kief, Jay Felsh, Jack Byrne, and Bob Krebsbach, A1, will discuss how the Supreme Court's decision on segregation may best be implemented.

Extemporaneous speakers will be Bob Krebsbach and King Dykeman, A3.

The Rev. Edward A. Conway, S. J., moderator for the Creighton Oratorical association, will be a critic at the meet.

KOCU Disc-Jockeys Aired Saturday, 8-Noon

John F. Brown, A3, station manager of KOCU, has recommended 550 on the radio dial as the place to find the "tops in pops for Saturday morning listening from 8-12 noon."

"Tune in every Saturday and hear your favorite disc-jockeys spin and chatter about the latest platters. There are no commercials to interrupt the josh and jive."

The disc-jockeys are students at Creighton university who are majoring in communications or journalism. Each of them have an hour show starting with Jerry Durnford, A3, at 8 a. m. Michael D'Arcy, A2, is heard at 9 o'clock; Tom Mack, A2, at 1 a. m., and Hugh Sweeney A2 at 11 o'clock.

Hagen Receives Fellowship

John Hagen, D4, has been awarded a three-year fellowship by the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., according to the Rev. E. J. Stumpf, S. J., regent of the dental school.

While at the clinic, John will work toward a master's degree in oral surgery from the graduate school of the University of Minnesota.

This is believed to be the first such fellowship awarded by the Mayo clinic to a Creighton dental graduate.

Music, Drama and Comedy In All-University Show Tonight

Singers! Dancers! Bands! Comics! All these and many more will appear on the Creighton university auditorium stage tonight as the curtain goes up on the "Creighton Capers" at 8:30 p. m.

Alpha Psi Omega, national drama honorary fraternity, is sponsoring the "Capers" for a one night stand only. Rehearsals are over and now "on with the show."

The drama group has been considering such a presentation for many months, but this is the first concrete attempt to initiate at Creighton an annual student variety show.

Contest Offers Prizes for Name

Would you like a new RCA color television set in your new student union building? A new 1956 Ford Thunderbird parked in front of your home? You can have both if you are one of the ten winners of a Thunderbird in the Viceroy "Name the Viceroy Filter contest."

The makers of Viceroy cigarettes are offering 60 prizes totaling $50,000 to college students, and only college students, who write in the best name for Viceroy's filter tip.

This once-in-a-lifetime opportunity means that 10 college men or women will have as their very own, a 225-horsepower Thunderbird, in their choice of colors, with automatic transmission, two tops, power steering, radio and white sidewall tires. With all this you will have the chance to present your favorite college organization with a RCA color television set.

As second prizes, Viceroy is awarding 40 Columbia high fidelity phonographs.

Rules for the contests are as follows:

1. Students may send in as many entries as they wish. But each entry must be accompanied by the picture of the Viceroy filter tip from the backs of two (2) Viceroy packs; that is, two filter tip pictures with each entry.

2. Be sure that the student entering includes the name of your college with their entries.

3. Entries should be mailed to Viceroy Thunderbird contest, P.O. Box 6A, Mount Vernon, New York.

4. All entries must be post-marked before midnight, January 31, 1956.

For complete details of the contest, obtain your entry blank at the Arts bulletin board.

Alpha Psi pointed out to the CREIGHTONIAN that the majority of colleges and universities throughout the country present such a show each year.

Two Bands to Play

The university band and the dance band will provide the music and the Creighton choir will present a selection of Christmas music.

Other acts will be presented by individuals and groups.

Group presentation will include skits by the Pasteur club; Phi Beta Pi; Phalanx and Theta Phi Alpha.

Individual acts will be presented by:

Joan Lubischer, A1; Margie Brickman, A1; Danny Ferlic, A1; Margie Masek, A4; Lorry Behm, A2; Don Gard, A1; Leonard Suchanek, A1; Larry LaChappelle, A3; Tom Mack, A2; Martin Joye, A2, and Martin Gardiner.

Help Given

While each group is responsible for their own costumes, makeup and scenery, Harry Langdon, instructor of dramatics, and members of Alpha Psi Omega have given technical advice and aid.

The skits will be judged by Harry Langdon, the Rev. Norbert Lemke, S. J., and the Rev. Kermit P. Kennedy, S. J.

A trophy will be awarded to the best act.

Tickets will be on sale at the box office before the performance. Tickets are 25 cents.

ROTC to Present Civil War Battle

Capt. William M. Obley, assistant professor of military science, will take his audience back to the Battle of Gettysburg on Creighton's "Doors of Knowledge" program, Monday at 11:45 a. m. over WOW-TV.

One of the features of the show will be a model of the battlefield with miniature soldiers representing the Union and Confederate armies. The reconstructed scene will also include President Eisenhower's farm, which has brought Gettysburg back into the limelight since he set up headquarters there after his recent heart attack.

Capt. Obley will explain how the battle was fought and what military tactics were used.

Triple Cutters Coming Up!

The Rev. Lawrence F. Jansen, S. J., assistant dean of arts, announced that today; Thursday, Dec. 15, and Wednesday, Jan. 4 are triple absence days. These days precede or follow school holidays.

Yesterday was the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

The Christmas recess will begin after the last class Dec. 15 for all divisions of the university except the schools of dentistry, law and medicine, and will end Jan. 4. Vacation for dentistry, law and medicine will begin at 5 p. m., Dec. 20.

President's Christmas Message 1955

Dear Faculty Members and Students of Creighton:

Although the Feast of Christmas and the holiday season is still a week or two away, it is always a pleasure for me to anticipate that joyous time in the last issue of the CREIGHTONIAN with a special greeting. This year it is especially easy to extend good wishes in view of the wonderful spirit of generosity and selflessness manifested by all of you during our wonderful Homecoming Week. Without a doubt it was the finest Homecoming we have had at Creighton in my five and a half years as President, and I congratulate you and thank you from the bottom of my heart.

May I urge that you attempt to spend your vacation days in the spirit of the event they surround. Let your gaiety and fun be the outgrowth of a deep spiritual joy and peace originating in the gloria in excelsis of the angels and the quiet of the Christmas crib.

That the Prince of Peace, Our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, may bless each of you on His birthday and throughout 1956 is the sincere wish of all my fellow Jesuits and your President.

Sincerely in Christ,
Carl M. Reinert, S. J.
President.

The Voters' Duty

The problem of racial segregation and integration has always been one approached and discussed behind the backs of hands.

Until quite recently, very little was done on an executive level to integrate the rights of Americans so that all could enjoy the fruits of freedom.

In the last couple of years, the federal government became convinced that the problem faced by this country, since before the Civil war, was one that demanded attention. After typical debate and red tape, it was ordered that integration of colored and white be accomplished.

The first step was the integration process in the schools. Time was allowed for this revolutionary thing to be developed. The thought of including all Americans fighting for one constitution being granted the rights of that constitution evidently must have needed a great deal of consideration for some member states in our union.

So be it. Changes in traditional society can not be accomplished overnight.

However, there are situations existing in various places in our country which border on the ludicrous.

One such situation was born of the scheduled contest between Pittsburgh University and Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl next New Year's Day.

According to Governor Marvin Griffin of Georgia, the presence of a Negro on the Pitt lineup constitutes sufficient reason for the athletic representatives of the sovereign state of Georgia to cancel their contract.

The students don't feel that way. The demonstrations staged by the students of Georgia Tech, which were suppressed as all mob violence must be, should serve to show where the root of prejudice lies. Evidently, it is not with youth.

To Governor Griffin, it seems degrading for white students to participate in sports against Negroes. It follows, then, that it will be equally degrading to attend integrated schools. What will his reaction be when he, as chief executive of Georgia, is called upon to administer the federal order for integration.

This is his duty. It appears that he will stall as long as possible to prevent it.

If this attitude is prevalent among the leaders of these anti-integration states, how can progress be made? Obviously, progress in his direction will continue. In the ranks of the common people, as shown by the reaction to this ridiculous display of intolerance, the feeling is not as strong, and appears to be diminishing. For what reason, then, does the duly elected leader of the people persist in carrying on this nineteenth century tradition?

Probably this particular governor is part of a last-ditch stand participated in by the remainder of a self-styled aristocracy. Shoulder to shoulder with this aristocracy march the poverty stricken, illiterates featured and romanticized by Erskine Caldwell. Obviously, there is basis for comradeship between these two groups. Both cling to the only thing which will preserve their fast-fading sense of superiority.

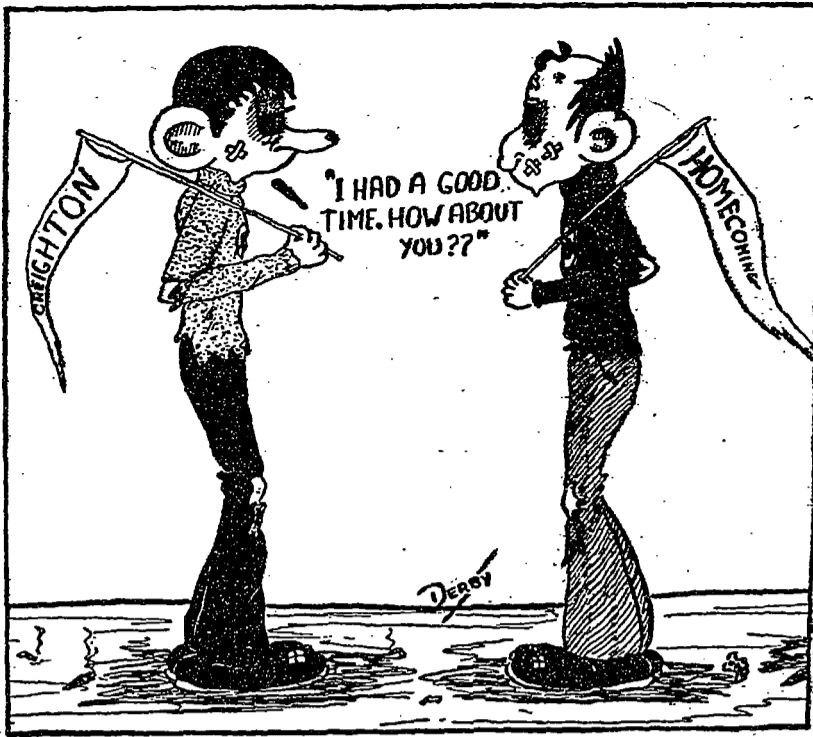

One of the most obvious ways to reduce this despotic intolerance is for the voters to use the power of the ballot. The presence of clear-thinking, broadminded, intelligent people in office can vastly overcome the evil done by the hypersensitive, over-emotional members of the already dying old guard.

Homecoming Aftermath

The halls stand naked to the cold once again; the last pompon and derby have become just souvenirs of three activity-filled days; Homecoming 1955 is ended.

Two and a half months of preparation and planning were culminated in the activity, spirit, and cooperation of this year's Homecoming. Approximately $1400 and innumerable hours of work were devoted to these three days.

Before the students and faculty were even certain of the classes for the fall semester, the Board of Governors were drawing up the broad outlines of Homecoming. With one exception the Board met every Monday evening to carry out the student government of the university. No small portion of this time was devoted to the task of assembling the Homecoming activities.

Three days are quickly gone and soon forgotten, even when they are participated in by the entire university. The unknown work of those behind the scenes is never known at all. This year's Board of Governors have devoted more time and energy to student life and university they have undertaken the Freshman Frolic, the Red Feat activity than their job requires. With true charity and concern for the university they have undertaken the Freshman Frolic, the Red Feather-Red Cross Drive, class elections, Homecoming elections, and HOMECOMING. Every banner that was hung, every derby that was sold, every float theme that was used, every minute detail that seemed just routine, were planned and carried out by the Board of Governors.

The spirit and enthusiasm of the Board quickly spread to the students, faculty, and organizations with which they worked. Resources that had never been used before soon became an integral part of the '55 Homecoming. Individuals and groups followed the lead and direction of the Board to complete all of the activities. Soon, the entire university had become a part of the activity.

It is impossible to enumerate all of the people and groups who made Homecoming the success that it was. Behind all of the work, however, the work of the Board of Governors was plainly evident. Theirs is a thankless job, for it is impossible to please every one of our 2500-member student body. When the efforts of the Board have culminated in this successful an activity, however, we can not pass up their work without notice. To this group of 12 students and one tireless faculty member, the Rev. Austin E. Miller, S.J., dean of men and moderator of the Board, go the congratulations and gratitude of the entire university. Yours is a job well done.

To All Creightonians!

As President of the Student Board of Governors, I would sincerely like to thank all the Students, Faculty, Administrative personnel, Maintenance men and generally all who helped during Homecoming Week . . .

From all reports, "Homecoming 1955" may be termed a success. The fine spirit of cooperation which prevailed throughout the entire week, in all schools, was definitely the main contributing factor which helped us attain the goal of a bigger and better Homecoming.

Last week was truly a rewarding experience for the Board, for it showed that through cooperation of the entire student body, projects of this type can be successful.

Again on behalf of the Student Board of Governors and myself, Thank You Very Much,

Kenneth Kunce,
President of the Student Board of Governors.

Warning: A philosophical joke coming up.
Dionysius was walking down the Appian way one fine day and he bumped into an old friend, Parmenides. Now Dionysius had not seen Parmenides for many years and was joyous.
"Parmenides," Dionysius said, "it is good to see you after all these years, you haven't changed a bit."
Parmenides then answered, "That's true, I never change."

Student Counselor How Much Time?

When a pilot seeks an assignment he is not asked how many years he has been flying, but how many hours at the controls in actual flying time he has had, and how recent. Hours on the ground may be spent in idle talk, wasting time, and even worse.

A man may have been a doctor for 40 years, but how many hours has he spent in the operating room, or beside a sick bed, in study, and in the application of his knowledge and skill? A man may have several degrees from universities representing years spent in school. But years of what? How many hours of your life have you spent in really serving God?

When a pilot does not spend sufficient time in the air, he gets rusty, and his license is taken away, and he is grounded. Should you be grounded? If you should, swallow your pride and face the fact. You need a refresher course. It may be hard work, taking this refresher course, but when you have completed the ground work, you can take off again.

During your hours in the air, hours of actual performance, you have the joy of action, you find that just as the upper air is uplifting, so your mind is clear and clean. Your vision is broad as you fly; you feel a sort of conscious superiority, the large eternal beauties are visible from your vantage point and you are aware of the glories yet unexplored above you.

You are in control again. The hours of your day are lengthened. The pettiness, the worries of the earthbound are far beneath you. You will pass over them swiftly, heedlessly. As the hours merge into days, and the days into years, you will move through centuries of toil, service that counts, all in the brief span of a profitable and worthwhile mortal life.

Unheralded Student Service

Creighton offers the means to heal both the body and the soul.

Most students appreciate the value of their spiritual training at Creighton. But how many stop to consider the untiring service rendered by the student health service?

Creighton's student health service, headed by Dr. Ben Slutzky, gives free medical treatment to all full time students. Any medicine needed by a person is sold at wholesale value.

This is only part of the service rendered by the medical school, however. Creighton has had a clinic for years, which offers needy Omahans medical treatment at cost. If a person cannot pay the minimum, the clinic does not turn him away.

The medical school therefore saves Douglas county thousands of dollars by administering medical aid to the needy.

Perhaps many students have not needed treatment while at Creighton and therefore do not fully appreciate the truly Christian job being performed by the medical school. But those who have needed treatment and received it, have a lasting warm place in their hearts for Dr. Slutzky and his staff.

Yes, the student health board can well be proud of its service to the physical needs of the students as our Jesuit teachers can be proud of successfully administering to our spiritual needs.

Fr. Blum Writes on Religious Liberties

Every American child's constitutional right to share in state grants-in-aid regardless of religious belief is defended in a booklet by the Rev. Virgil C. Blum, S. J., assistant professor of political science.

The booklet is titled Your Child's Religious Liberty and was published by the Catechetical Guild of St. Paul, Minn. It is concerned with the rights of all children to share in welfare benefits as provided by the state. These rights are guaranteed by the first and 14th amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

"Every child has the right to attend a parochial school and the right to do so without suffering penalties," Father Blum writes. "The extent to which parochial school children share equally in the benefits of welfare legislation demonstrates the amount of liberty parents have in directing the education of their children."

Father Blum points out that to deprive children of such welfare benefits as bus transportation, school lunches, free textbooks and educational grants because they attend a parochial school is to punish them for their religious beliefs.

"To punish them for going to a parochial school," writes Father Blum, "would be like punishing a Jew for attending religious services in the synagogue."

Father Blum points to the 14th amendment to the Constitution as proof that every child has the right to share in welfare benefits. It states that "no one may be discriminated against because of his race, creed or color."

"Furthermore," declares Father Blum, "this right, as has been repeatedly stated by the Supreme Court, is a personal right. Hence, the right to share equally in the benefits of the laws is a personal right.

"This means that the individual person has a right to equal laws. He has a personal right to be equal under the law. He has a personal right not to be discriminated against."

Father Blum concludes that since these rights are personal, they belong to the individual child. They have a right to share equally with other children in the benefits of welfare legislation regardless of the school they attend.

Student's Father Dies From Heart Attack

James Webster, father of James C. Webster, A1, died Tuesday from a heart attack suffered at a Chamber of Commerce Christmas party in North Bend, Nebr.

Mr. Webster was the 48-year-old editor of The Eagle, the North Bend weekly.

He was a native of Elba, Nebr., and formerly lived at St. Paul, Nebr., where his father published a weekly. Mr. Webster also worked on papers at Alliance, Grand Island and Aurora, Nebr.

He was a Dodge county, Democratic chairman and a member of the board of directors of the Northeast Nebraska Press association.

New Organization Will Stir Engineering Interest

A new organization has been formed on the Creighton campus to fulfill a long standing need. It is the Student Engineers association.

Its objective is to promote interest in and provide information concerning the engineering field.

At the first meeting, Nov. 28, the constitution and by-laws were completed and accepted. Officers were also elected. They are Charles Sanders, A3, president; Daniel Schwartz, A3, vice-president, and Mary Jo Burke, A1, secretary-treasurer.

Patrick Henry, A2, was elected chairman of the program committee. Jeff Vanderberg, A2, chairman of the library and publications committee and Joseph Dasovic, A3, chairman of the public relations committee.

Morris Dansky, assistant professor in mathematics, is the moderator of the club.

The group has made plans to sponsor guest speakers from the Omaha area to talk on subjects of interest to engineering students and also to make tours of some of the local industries. Wednesday evening, the members toured the Continental Can Co.

Scholarships Open To Journalists

Applications are now being accepted for journalism scholarships, it was announced by two groups this week. Stanford University in California and American Women in Radio and Television, Inc., of New York released bulletins regarding application for these awards.

The department of Communication and Journalism at Stanford is offering scholarships for graduate workers in journalism. These scholarships carry stipends from $1,200 to $2,400 and total $11,800.

Requests for additional information should be addressed to the Executive Head, Department of Communication and Journalism, Stanford University, Stanford, California. January 15 is the deadline for applications.

A scholarship of $500 is to be awarded to a woman student enrolled in her junior year during the current academic year at an accredited American college or university which offers a degree or elective major in radio and/or television by the AWRT.

The scholarship is designed to encourage talented young women in the radio and television fields. The scholarship must be used for study in radio and/or television, or for necessary expenses in on-the-job training.

Applicants must have recommendations from the Dean of Students, two faculty members under whom she has studied as well as two personal references. Judging will be based on scholarship, character, personality, stability, cooperation, and adaptability.

Application blanks may be obtained from American Women in Radio and TV, 70 East 45th Street, New York 17, New York. The deadline for entries is January 16, 1956, and announcement of the winner will be made at the annual AWRT convention, April 26-29, 1956, at Boston.

KOCU to Present Special Programs As Christmas Gift

You have a Christmas present waiting for you.

And you'll find it at the 550 spot on your radio next week as KOCU unwraps its annual Christmas gifts for the students living on or near the campus.

These gifts, of course, are in the forms of programs. Programs from the British Broadcasting corporation. It's the station's way of saying, "Merry Christmas."

Your first gift is opened on Tuesday, at 8 p. m., when two of Britain's most important, and contrasting, personalities tell of the "Three Gifts for Christmas." It features playwright-actor, Peter Ustinov, and author, J. B. Priestly.

Your second gift is opened at 9:30 p. m., that same evening, when comedian Eric Barker investigates Christmas in a 15 minute comedy, "Christmas Over There."

Under the KOCU Christmas tree Wednesday, at 8 p. m., you'll find "Christmas From the Skies." It's a program in semi-verse, narrated by Leo Genn, with a cast of distinguished British radio actors, depicting the various attitudes to Christmas. The background music is one of the high points with this program.

Wednesday at 9:30 p. m., your fourth and final gift is unwrapped. When you listen you'll find that its, "Whoa Dasher. Whoa Dancer." This program is a lighthearted fantasy about an annual rally of space ships in the Yuletide of the gay 1990's.

Don't be left out, listen in to the 550 spot on your radios, when KOCU celebrates a radio-land Christmas.

Thomsen's Jays Dump Buena Vista and Morningside

Jays Win Opener From Buena Vista

Creighton opened its 1955-56 basketball season by whipping Buena Vista 73-36 before a homecoming throng of 2,900.

Tommy Thomsen, who made his debut as head coach of the Jays, presented the Creighton family with a relatively encouraging demonstration in the persons of the 14 squad members who suited up for the opener.

Bob Gibson, the junior veteran whom everybody expects so much from, scored 13 points and put on his usual flashy floor show. Lyle O'Dell, Dan Simon, Doug Klanderud and Jim Berry completed the starting five. Simon's work under the boards and O'Dell's 11 points contributed to the Jay romp.

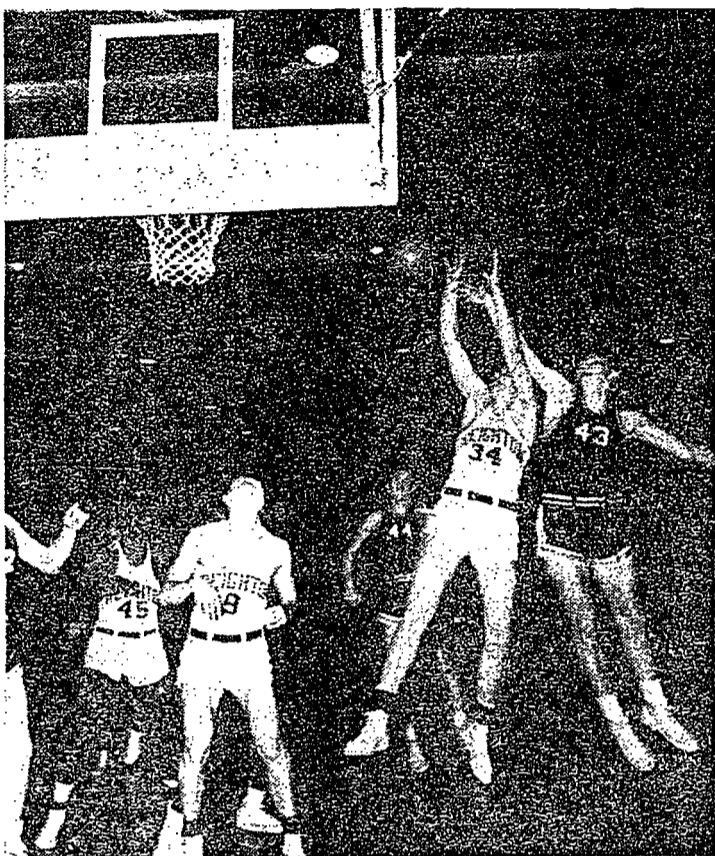

Jim Berry, freshman from Waterloo, Iowa, dunked 10 points and gave Creighton fans more than their money's worth for a 5-9 guard. Berry is the small, swift and smooth type who takes command like a seasoned veteran.

Thirteen of the 14 Bluejays who saw action made the scoring column.

Thomsen was pleased with the individual defenses but stressed the need for offensive polish. The Bluejays hit 23-58 field goal attempts and potted 27-37 free throws.

Creighton's Jayvees beat Omaha Travelers 75-64 in the preliminary. Tom Roan tallied 14 points to pace Creighton scorers.

Richards Triumphs In Ballot Contest

Gerry Richards, A2, won the football prediction contest by the narrowest possible margin of one point. Gerry finished with 121 correct guesses to top the field of 95 students who participated in the 1955 ballot contest.

John Uhl, C3, gained runner-up honors with a score of 120. Four students tied for third place with totals of 117.

Richards won a free steak dinner at the Colony Club for his prediction efforts. Following are the entrants who posted scores of 100 or more:

Gordon Leads Faculty Bowling

Joe Gordon smashed the wood for a pin total of 188 Sunday night to lead faculty bowlers. Vern Lilla was runner-up with 184. Gordon also took high individual series. He amassed pins amounting to 529. Capt. Bill Obley was second with 516. The only other 500 rolled was by Jack North who shot a 503.

The Shoplifters sparked a 606 for high team game. The club was aided by a seven-pin handicap. The Khaki Kids continued with their blistering pace to shoot 1772 for high team series. With that series behind them, the Kids moved into first place.

No team was able to make a series sweep. The results: Khaki Kids took two from Lilla's Litter; the Shoplifters dropped the Cash Customers; Blackrobes dumped the Cousins, and the Legal Lobbers toppled the Biobowlers.

Leona Humlicek led the way for the ladies. She sparked a 174 total. Both Mildred Gilmore and Dorothy Ortman shot 150 to place second. Virginia Chisholm had 148, Dorothy Oriman and Leona Humlicek tied for high series honors with 407. Virginia Chisholm had 402 as the three dominated the kegling.

Led by Leona Humlicek and Virginia Chisholm, the Spartires took high team game and high team series. Totals in those departments were 504 and 1498, respectively.

Spartires swept a series from the Gutter Dusters, while the Spark Plugs took two from the Ally Cats.

Thomists to Meet

The Thomist club will meet next Tuesday in room A325 to discuss "Is man determined by instinct?"

Creighton Douses Morningside Bid

Creighton toppled the touted high scorers from Morningside, 59-44 for their second win in as many games on Monday.

Bob Gibson blistered the nets for 27 points and played his typical role of troublemaker for the opposition in every other phase of the game. Gibson displayed some flashy passing and qualified as the chief ball-hawk as he continually pestered the Morningside visitors.

The Bluejays owned a lead of 16-10 with 8:58 left in the first half when they went into a stall. The stall lasted four minutes and 20 seconds. Coach Thomsen had pint-sized guard Jim Berry hold the ball after he crossed the half-court line and wait for the Maroons to come out and get it. Coach Albert Buckingham kept his boys back under the basket and refused to force play of the ball.

Finally with 4:38 to go Berry dribbled the ball and the show was back on the road. Creighton had nothing to lose by the stall. They had a six-point lead and Morningside had the advantage in height so why should Creighton feed the hungry big boys who employed a zone defense that made it rough on the Bluejays.

Thomsen singled out Gibson for his great job of rebounding and remarked that "the team's defensive rebounding needs the most improvement."

Creighton faces Texas Western Monday night here on the Hill. The Texans were pre-season favorites to win the Border Conference.

Gibson Leading Bluejay Attack

Bob Gibson, one of the most promising basketball stars in Bluejay history is presently sporting a season average of 20 points per game.

In the 1954-55 season the colorful Tech High grad, racked up a total of 395 points in the 19-game season. This gave Gibson a point average of 20.5, which is good in anyone's books. With 40 points in the first two games of the current season it looks like another great year for Bob.

Gibson's background in basketball shows that he knows his way around the hardwood court. In the last game his fighting aggressiveness paid off for 27 points. Included in this barrage were 11 straight gratis tosses without a miss. Bob's ballhandling was magnificent in the semi-stall employed by the Jays in the last 5½ minutes of the Morningside game.

The lanky Gibson is 6'1" tall and tips the scales at 175. He is 20 years old and a junior in Arts. From his previous showings, it looks as if Bob is doing his part to return great basketball to the Hilltop.

Sports of Sorts

By James Pruss

The Texas Western "Miners" will converge upon the Hilltop court Monday to challenge the Bluejay's successful season opening.

What to Expect

Coach George McCarty's Miners ended last season in a blaze of glory, defeating conference co-champions Texas Tech and West Texas State in the final two weeks of the season.

The Texans are expected to be stronger this season. Two squad members have graduated but the three highest scorers are still with the team.

Reserves Are Thin

Nine lettermen returned from that team, which started slow, but ended the year only a game out of first place in the league.

Although the Miners boast four seniors, they cannot be rated a veteran squad. The reserves are too thin. Injuries to any of the first five players could be disastrous.

Miners Led Conference Defense

McCarty is expected to come up with the same type team as last year, not high scoring, but tough on defense. The Miners led the conference in defense, mostly by ball control and a pattern style offense.

With the speed exhibited by the team in early sessions they may be able to run with the fast break clubs.

McCarty Opens Third Year

Coach George McCarty is beginning his third year at the helm of Texas Western basketball forces. His 1954 team posted an 8-14 record, with last year's group ending the year with a 13-8 record.

This year they put up a good fight against Oklahoma A. & M. but ended up on the short side of the score—51 to 40

NAIA Executive Tells Plans for Tourney

Al Duer, executive secretary-treasurer of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, was in Omaha last week-end preparing for the forthcoming NAIA tournament in late December.

Along with tournament preparations Mr. Duer wanted to orientate the sport fans of Omaha with some of the ideas of his organization.

The NAIA started back in 1940 as the NAIB (National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball). In that same year the first big 32 team tournament was held at Kansas City. In 1944 there was no tournament due to the war and in 1945 the field was limited to 16 teams due to the war. After the war years the NAIP got back into full swing with its annual 32 team tournament.

Association Sets Rules

In 1952 the association became the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics because it was then it picked up golf, track and tennis. For the past 4 years an annual tournament has been held in these sports at Abilene, Texas. However the site will be changed next year to San Diego, California.

When the NAIA started back in 1940 it had only 30 colleges and universities as members but today it has 450. The average enrollment of these participating schools is about 1200.

Mr. Duer stated that the association has an 18 week minimum transfer rule, the freshman eligibility rule and a possible 4 years participation out of 5.

NAIA Has 2nd Tourney

The association is made up of 31 districts with No 1 starting out in the state of Washington and No. 31 being the Connecticut area. From district 6 comes the 32nd team to make up tournament play for it is chosen at large.

Mr. Duer pointed out that this tournament to be held in Omaha is not to be confused with the annual March tournament that is held in Kansas City. He said that this tournament at the city auditorium is an invitational one in which only 8 teams are invited.

Creighton and Omaha universities are hosts at this coming tournament which will be played Dec. 28, 29 and 30. Tickets for all games can be obtained at the city auditorium and not through the universities.

Reilly, Conway, Dolphin Attend PR Convention

Three representatives from Creighton attended the annual district joint-convention of the American College Public Relations Association and the American Alumni Council, Dec. 4, 5, and 6, in Excelsior Springs, Mo.

They were Robert T. Reilly, public relations director and executive secretary of the Creighton Alumni association; Bernard Conway, assistant director of development; and Harry Dolphin, news bureau director.

Mr. Dolphin participated in a panel discussion on photography. Delegates to the convention represented states throughout the midwest.

University of Ceylon Offers Fellowships

The University of Ceylon is offering two fellowships to graduate students for next year. These fellowships cover room, board and tuition.

Any students who are interested must submit applications before December 15, 1955. Candidates should apply to the United States Student Department of the Institute of International Education.

Requirements are: United States citizenship, good academic record, good moral character, personality and adaptability, broad knowledge of the culture of the U. S. and good health.

HI! JOIN ME FOR A LUCKY DROODLE?

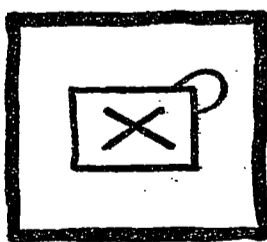

WHAT'S THIS?
For solution, see paragraph below.

HERE'S A DROODLE THAT PACKS A PUNCH. It's titled: Lucky smoke rings blown by prizefighter with tooth missing. It packs a moral, too: Why knock yourself out looking for a better-tasting cigarette when all you have to do is light up a Lucky? Luckies taste better, first, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is TOASTED to taste better. So light up a Lucky. It's the winner — and still champion — for better taste!

Drama Frat to Caper

By Ruth Welsh

Tonight as the curtain rises on the "Creighton Capers," the occasion will mark Alpha Psi Omega's dramatic effort for this year. Annually, this Mu Pi "cast" of the fraternity at Creighton presents a production in accordance with its constitution.

Alpha Psi Omega was organized as an honorary dramatic fraternity for the purpose of providing an honor dramatic society for those doing a high standard of work in dramatics.

11 Members

At Creighton there are presently 11 members who have fulfilled the requirements for membership. The fraternity is not intended to take the place of the Creighton Players, but as students qualify, they are rewarded by election to membership in Alpha Psi Omega.

In Alpha Psi Omega a member is given a chance to produce, direct, or star in the fraternity's productions. Also in the past, the fraternity has held play-reading sessions at which the members would meet and read aloud the current play published by Theater Arts, a drama magazine.

Annual Trophy

At the end of each spring semester the fraternity presents a trophy to the most worthy student contributing the most to a phase of drama. Last year Matt Schutz, A4, won the award for his scenic design of the musical, "Finian's Rainbow." This provides an incentive for all non-members of the fraternity to do their best in their particular field.

In the past Alpha Psi Omega has presented such note-worthy productions as "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "Riders to the Sea." Last year the cast produced a melodrama, "Curse You, Jack Dalton," to the cheers and hisses of the audience.

Harry Langdon, director of dramatics, and Father Edward Langdon, S. J., are the faculty moderators of the group. Its officers are Bob Spittler, A4, director, Tom Swanson, A2, stage manager, and Matt Schutze, A4, business manager.

Theta U to Pledge 10 Sunday Evening

Theta Upsilon national social sorority, will hold its pledge dinner Sunday evening at the Fontenelle hotel. Final plans for the dinner were made by members at a meeting Wednesday night.

The pledges are all freshmen. They include the following:

Theresa Urzendowski, Jill Murphy, Marjorie Erickman, Sue McGrath, Sue Carey, Kathleen Tuhy, Jackie Masters, Nancy Hegge-meier, Rose Marie Smith and Elva Ryan.

Special guests at the dinner include the Rev. Lawrence F. Jansen, S. J., the Rev. Austin E. Miller, S. J., and the Rev. Ralph A. Jung, S. J., spiritual advisor of the sorority. Other guests include Mrs. R. E. Stover, member of the advisory board, and Miss Leona Humlicek, chapter advisor. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hansink will chaperon.

Pledging ceremonies will begin at 6:30 p. m. with the dinner following at 7:30. A party will be held after the dinner in honor of the new pledges.

On Sunday afternoon, Dec. 18, Theta Upsilon members will go caroling. They plan to visit St. Joseph's and St. Catherine's hospitals and St. James orphanage.

Coed Retreat

A volunteer coed retreat will be given Dec. 10, 11, and 12 by Rev. Lawrence Jansen, S. J., in the Prep Library. The first conference begins Friday at 7:15 p. m.

Fifty-five coeds have signed for the retreat; any others interested may register at the office of the student counselor.

CU's Christmas Parties

CU Med Wives to Celebrate Yule

Mrs. Herb Gude is head of the Christmas party committee in charge of providing festivities for the December meeting of the Creighton University Medical wives' association which will be next Wednesday, Dec. 14. The eight p. m. meeting will be held at the Phi Beta Pi fraternity house.

A highlight of the meeting will be a trip around the neighborhood singing Christmas carols. Card games will also be played.

The ladies have been working on boxes of candy and food, which will be turned over to the Catholic Charities, Inc., for distribution.

Beside Mrs. Gude, the entertainment committee consists of the Mesdames Gene Elston, Robert Hewson, John Fischer, Tom Morrissey, Kenneth Rupp, Frank Schloeder, Don Dicus, Lynn Leibel, Ron Ohnhausen, Ed Lysek and Robert Rento.

Delta Sigma Delta Has Wednesday Yule Party

Members of Delta Sigma Delta, dental fraternity had a Christmas party Wednesday night at the German American club.

They will hold a regular business meeting Tuesday night at Dr. Arlo Dunn's office at 7:30 p. m.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss coming election of officers and social activities for next year.

Faculty Wives

Santa Claus will be the featured attraction at a faculty children's Christmas party given by the Faculty Wives and Women's club a week from tomorrow at 10 a. m. in the school cafeteria.

After playing games, the youngsters will receive presents and refreshments.

Commerce Coeds Dine

Commerce Coed club held a Christmas dinner party Wednesday at the Legion club.

They exchanged gifts and presented Miss Hannah Doyle, instructor in secretarial science, and Miss Virginia Chisholm, secretary to the dean of commerce, with gifts. Miss Doyle and Miss Chisholm were special guests.

Phi Betes Pledge Seven Med Frosh

Phi Beta Pi medical fraternity pledged seven freshmen this year. The pledges were honored at a party Nov. 19.

Among the pledges are Bernie Rudes, Larry Abruzzini, Joe Broderick, Tom McLaughlin, John Yost, Bernard Kieser, and Vince Adams.

The Betas have named Agnes Twohig, SC N3, to represent them as a candidate for Helen of Troy at the Inter-fraternity Ball on Jan. 13.

St. Nicholas Will Visit Junior, Junior Meds

Jolly old St. Nick will pay a visit to Creighton's junior, junior medics Saturday afternoon, Dec. 17.

The Creighton University Medical Wives association will entertain the children of CU medical students at a Christmas party at the Phi Rho house, featuring Santa Claus and refreshments for the kiddies.

The event will be from three to five o'clock and is under the direction of Mrs. Charles Schrank.

Nagengast-Palensky

Miss Norma Jean Palensky of Howells, Neb., and Delwyn J. Nagengast, M4, will be married in St. John Nepomick church in Howells, Dec. 31.

Coed Christmas Tea

Tuesday at Mary hall, coeds will have a Christmas tea from three p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

At the tea, there will be a grab bag gift exchange. All coeds are invited to attend.

Rose Stehno, A4, president of the Coed club, is in charge of arrangements.

Law Wives

Mrs. Ann Seidler will be hostess for the Creighton Law Wives club Christmas party, which will be held at her home, 3553 Davenport street.

At the party this Wednesday evening, eight p. m., a Christmas decoration demonstration will be given.

Phi Delta Gamma

Phi Delta Gamma graduate sorority is holding its Christmas party and Founders' celebration at the home of Mrs. Maurine Hamilton on Monday.

Sodality Sponsors Food Drive

"Give a little to help a lot!"

Creighton's Sodality is sponsoring a food drive to provide baskets for needy families in the Omaha area Monday through Thursday.

All Week

Collections for the food drive will be taken all week in the first floor hall of the administration building, and at the freshman orientation class Tuesday.

Donations students may bring includes canned goods, such as fruits and vegetables, or dry goods, such as coffee and packaged desserts. Cash also will be accepted to buy food.

Mass and Communion

Sodality members celebrated the Feast of the Immaculate Conception yesterday morning with 10 a. m. Mass and a Communion breakfast afterward.

Mass, read in St. John's church by the Rev. Vincent L. Decker.

Phi Delta Chi Gets 15 More

Phi Delta Chi, pharmacy fraternity initiated 15 new members yesterday at Camp Brewster. Following the initiation, the fraternity had dinner at Little Frank's restaurant.

Initiation began in the morning. Senior members of the fraternity each spoke and congratulated incoming members.

Guest Speaker

In the evening, John Scully, director of the department of pharmaceutical chemistry of the pharmacy school, was the guest speaker at the evening dinner.

Ralph McKay, P4, president of the fraternity, was in charge of initiation activities.

Members

New members include Ray Shum, Gene Noon, Stan Petrik, P2; Dick Ruzicka, P2; Richard Mikuls, P2; Larry Huber, P2; Roger McDermott, P2, and Martin Zaccane, P2.

Active members of APO chapters at Creighton university, the University of Nebraska and Omaha university attended.

E. H. Stech, president of the Omaha Area Alumni Chapter, will review the 1955 activities of the chapter.

The Inter-Fraternity Council gave a party Tuesday evening in the Fern room of the Blackstone hotel for 11 candidates representing Creighton's fraternities at the Inter-Fraternity Ball next month.

Pat Kenney, M4, president of the Council, introduced the 11 Helen of Troy candidates to the rest of the Council. Following the introductions, buffet dinner was eaten. Then the Council voted for its choice of Helen of Troy. Her name will be revealed at the Ball.

Candidates

Candidates selected by the fraternities are as follows:

Agnes Twohig, SCN3 Phi Beta Pi; Marilyn Bradley, SJN4, Phi Chi; Becky Sheldon, SJN4, Phi Rho Sigma; Pearl Morsteller, SCN3, Delta Sigma Pi.

Other candidates are Patty Burns, SJN1, Phalanx; Donna Annis, SJN1, Delta Sigma Delta; Kay Muldoon, A3, Alpha Phi Omega; Mary Ann Beaton, A3, Phi Alpha Delta; Ann Drahota, A2, Xi Psi Phi; Mary Hunt, P3, Phi Delta Chi, and Rosemary Mara, L4, Delta Phi.

At Peony Park

The Inter-Fraternity Ball will be Jan. 13 at Peony Park. It is open to fraternity members and their dates. The council announced this week that non-fraternity men may attend the ball, although they must contact a member of a fraternity to make arrangement for purchasing tickets.

The Inter-Fraternity Council this week advised fraternity members to line up dates for the Ball before they leave for Christmas vacation. The Ball, the Council cautioned, is the week after the students return.

Alpha Sigma Alpha To Hold Pledging Sunday Evening

Vets' Questions Get Answers

Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Some of the veterans here at Creighton may have some of the questions in mind that have been asked by representative queries.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and I have a $10,000 G.I. term insurance policy that is approaching the end of its current term. I would like to convert $5,000 to permanent insurance and drop the other $5,000. If, at a later date, I want to pick up the insurance I drop, will I be able to do so?

A—No. Under the law, once a WW II G.I. term insurance policy is allowed to expire, it may not be reinstated. A term policy expires when you allow it to pass the end of its term without renewing it for another term, or converting it.

Q—I am in school under the Korean G.I. Bill. My 3-year starting cut-off date has passed. Would I still be allowed to change my course? I never changed courses before.

A—You will be allowed to change your course after the starting deadline ONLY if (1) you have not been making satisfactory progress in your present course through no fault of your own or (2) the new course will be a normal progression from your present course.

Q—If I write a letter to the VA, applying for disability compensation, could my claim be approved based on the letter alone? Or will I also be required to fill out an application form?

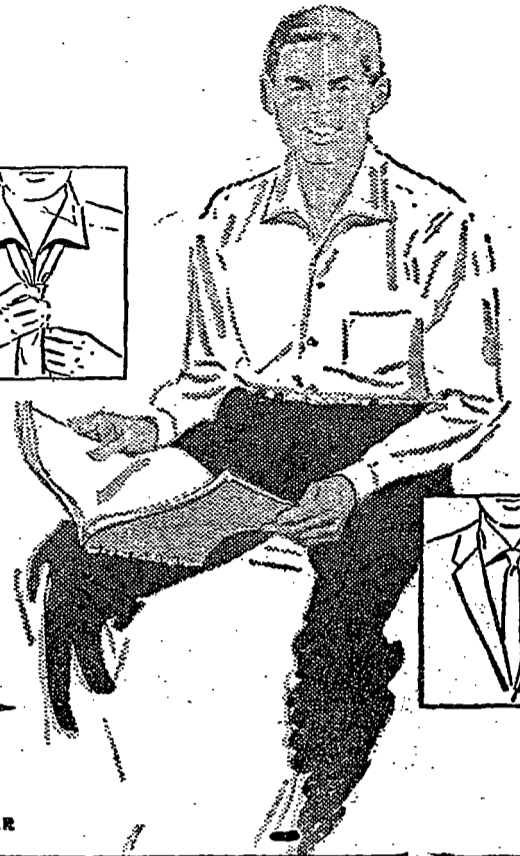

A—You will be required to fill out the application form that VA will send you. If you return the completed application to VA within one year from the date it was sent to you, your original letter will be considered as an "informal claim," and your official date of application will be the date on which VA received your letter.

Merry Christmas

New...
a comfortable collar
you cannot outgrow

The new Arrow Lido shirt has no top button at the collar; your necktie alone closes the collar neatly. And even if your neck size grows, the "expandable" collar stays comfortable. Get yours today—wear it with a tie tonight—open at the neck tomorrow. Priced from $5.00.
