AESOP'S FABLES

THE TOWN MOUSE AND THE COUNTRY MOUSE

ONCE upon a time a country mouse who had a friend in town invited him, for the sake of old times, to pay him a visit in the country.

The invitation being accepted in due course, the country mouse, though plain and rough in his habits of living, opened his heart in honour of an old friend. There was not a carefully stored up morsel that he did not bring forth out of his larder—peas and barley, cheese-parings and nuts—hoping by quantity to make up what he feared was wanting in quality.
