ACHIEVEMENT

---

In its literature, BUSY FOLK responds to the child's need of active and varied experience.

It follows a carefully graded development:

- (1) In the number of new words to the page.
- (2) In the arrangement of material on the page.
- (3) In the difficulty of words and sentences.

It should be so used that pleasure in good literature will at once become a means of inducing the reading habit.

The editors extend their thanks to Professor Fred N. Scott of the University of Michigan for helpful suggestions on the content of the series, i.e. the developing social life of the child.

For permission to use selections in this book, grateful acknowledgment is made to the following publishers: Milton Bradley Company for "The Little Gray Pony," from Lindsay's Mother Stories; and G. P. Putnam's Sons (Cambridge Press, England) and E. P. Dutton & Co. for "The Wise Lion," from Shedlock's Eastern Stories and Legends.
