DEBATERS DEFEAT ST. MARY'S BY TWO TO ONE DECISION

C. U. Wins Semi-Finals of Province League by Close Decision

The Creighton University debating team defeated St. Mary's College at St. Mary's, Kan., last Friday evening, by a decision of two to one. The question debated was, "Resolved: That it should be the policy of the United States to demand full payment of the debts owed it by the allied nations." St. Mary's defended the affirmative side of the question and Creighton the negative. Mr. Patrick H. Slattery and Mr. Joseph P. Loftus made up the St. Mary's team while Mr. Thomas Russell and Mr. Robert Patton represented Creighton.

The debate was the semi-final of the Missouri Province League, and was said by members of the faculty and student body to have been the closest and most interesting debate ever held at St. Mary's. The Creighton team agrees that it was close, in fact too close to be comfortable. They are loud in their praise of Mr. Slattery and Mr. Loftus as debaters. The Creighton team has the distinction of being the only team which has successfully defended the negative side of this question and incidentally, they are the first ones to defeat St. Mary's on their home floor in two years.

The report brought back by the team is that the St. Mary's boys are a fine bunch of fellows. The Creighton team was given royal treatment while at the college, a committee being on hand all the time to look after their entertainment. Messrs. Kadle, Haight, Higgins, and Boland were on the reception committee. It is to be hoped that we will have the privilege of entertaining a St. Mary's team next year.

The judges of the debate were Mr. U. G. Mitchell, Lawrence, Kans., Mr. Landry Harwood, Kansas City, Mo., and Mr. Richard Higgins, Kansas City, Kans. Mr. Francis P. Motherway was chairman.

Creighton will meet St. Ignatius college of Cleveland in the final contest. GO! TO! IT!!!!

COLLEGES OF PROVINCE RIVALS FOR LATIN MEDAL

One of the important contests to take place in the near future, is the Inter-collegiate Latin Contest, which will be held on April 4. The Reverend Father Francis McMenamy, S.J., of St. Louis, annually offers a gold medal for the best essay from the various schools in the province.

Rev. Father Gannon, pastor of St. Patrick's parish, won this prize for Creighton, while a student at the university. It is hoped that Creighton will be fortunate enough to place again.

GRID MEN MEET

A meeting of prospective football candidates for the 1923 eleven was held in the Union club rooms Wednesday evening. Forty-five men, who are eligible next year, were on hand.

This meeting is one of a series that will be held between now and June to promote harmony and good fellowship among the candidates. Theoretical football and an interpretation of the rules will be taken up by athletic Director Schabinger at these meetings. Spring practice begins Tuesday.

MEDIC DEAN ATTENDS ANATOMISTS' MEETING

Dr. H. Von W. Schulte is attending a meeting of the anatomists of this country at the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., March 12-15.

CREIGHTON MEN TO BE IN LOYOLA PLAY

Loyola Club to Present "The Upper Room"

On Thursday, March 22nd, the Loyola club of St. John's Parish, will present "The Upper Room," a drama of the Passion of Christ. "The Upper Room" is a beautiful, well-written piece, by Monsignor Robert Hugh Benson.

In the cast are several Creighton men: Harris Lynch, Stuart Neary, and Charles Costello, of "Stop Thief" fame, Lee Atchinson, a dramatic star of the university, and Lyle Kelly, who has gathered his dramatic experience at St. Ambrose.

"The Upper Room" should be of interest to Creighton men in view of a future Creighton Dramatic club. Both the faculty and students are interested. "The Upper Room" will provide a medium by which to demonstrate and organize Creighton talent. A Creighton Dramatic club is needed.

LARGEST STUDENT PLEDGE TO ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

The largest pledge turned in to date, by any student, is that of Julius Humphrey of the Senior Arts class, who has signed a pledge for $2,000, with the initial payment to be made two years hence. Humphrey's contribution swells the Seniors' total to $3,500, or twice as much as previously reported. Credit for securing the largest individual pledge from any student must be given to Julius Berger, president of the Seniors, in whose class Humphrey belongs.

Humphrey is one of the most prominent students in the Arts department, and is at present directing the destinies of the Glee Club, as business manager. It was largely through his efforts that such a large crowd was in attendance at the State Oratorical contest a few weeks ago. He is also well known as an orator, having placed in last year's public contest.

GO TO IT

If you were at the band room last night at 8:00 p. m., YOU know what is in this article, plus a carload more.

The Lone Call of Creighton was answered last night by John A's Sons: Basketball tossers, tracksters, skaters, racqueteers, swimmers, golfers, handball men, boxers, wrestlers and football players, writers and cartoonists, singers, instrumentalists, whistlers, jiggers, specialty men and comedians.

"On Old Creighton," was sung by the entire club. The Keno quartette and the Creighton sax sextette contributed. These units will accompany the Glee Club on its trip.

Glee Club, the faculty, students, alumni and friends of Creighton are behind you.

GO! TO! IT!

FRESHMAN ARTS CLASS TO GIVE BALL APRIL 6

The Freshman class of the Arts department is planning a dancing party to be held on Friday, April 6, in the Union club rooms. Only members of the Freshman class may attend this dance, and admission will be by program only.

The following freshmen have charge of arrangements for the dance: Clarence Moran, Ed. Hickey, Frank Fogarty, Fred Beaumont, Warren Cook, and Charles Vance. Those wishing to attend should see some member of the arrangements committee.

HOLD DEBATE AT WEEKLY MEETING OF ORATORICAL

The place of the social fraternity in the modern university, was the subject of the debate, at the weekly meeting of the Oratorical Association, last Thursday. Great interest was shown in the question, when the discussion was thrown open to the house. Opinion for and against the social frat seemed evenly divided when the meeting adjourned.

The decision was given to Tim Gannon and "Al" Morrissey, who defended the negative. Julius Humphrey and Stephan Spitsnagle were the speakers for the affirmative.

CONDOLENCE

News reached the office Monday of the death of Dr. P. H. McCarthy, '02, who died at the Mayo Hospital, Rochester, last Saturday, March 10. He was born in O'Neil, Nebraska; was a graduate of the Creighton Medical college in 1902, and had a large practice in surgery in Butte, Mont.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR ELECTION COMPLETE

With the announcement by the Board of Governors of the Union that Bert Abts, president of the senior Law class, has been appointed Election Commissioner, with entire supervision of the Union Board election on Friday, March 23, the fact becomes more convincing that the elections are but one short week away.

Notices have been posted on the bulletin boards of every department of the candidates, who have been nominated by Board of Governors or by petition of the students. Additional memoranda in regard to the conduct of the elections will be posted in all departments soon.

A deputy election commissioner for each department has been chosen from among the senior classmen. Clement Hogan is the Arts deputy and Lawrence Growney will hold this office in the Medical school. The deputies of the other departments will be announced later.

Inter-College Contest Soon

The Inter-collegiate English Contest, which is scheduled to take place on Monday, March 19, is absorbing much interest among the students of the various English departments in the University, at the present time.

This contest is an annual event and restricted entirely to the colleges in the Missouri province.

Aside from the honor it would bring our Alma Mater, the prizes offered are well worth the effort to say the least.

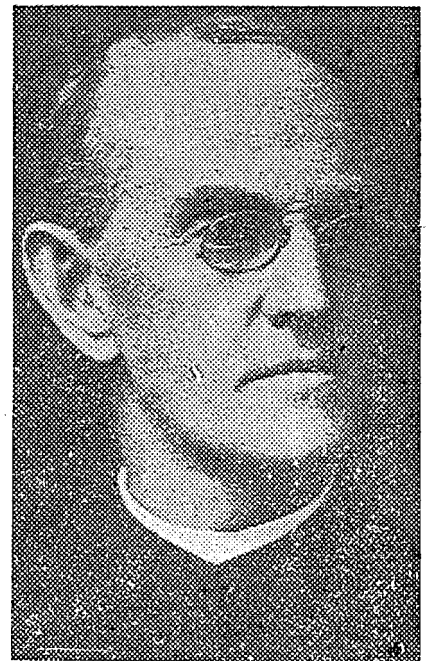

Mr. D. T. Bemner, of Chicago, is the generous donor, who annually offers the sum of one hundred dollars to be distributed among the winning colleges as follows: First prize, fifty dollars; second prize, twenty dollars; third prize, fifteen dollars; fourth prize, ten dollars; and five dollars for fifth prize.

Creighton in the past has shown encouraging signs and it is hoped that she will gain recognition again.

FATHER KINSELLA EXPIRES AFTER LONG SICKNESS

Entire Life Example of Piety, Scholarship and Zeal

A long life of unostentatious piety and scholarship and of gentle but constant zeal came to a close Friday evening, March 9, when Father William T. Kinsella, S.J., expired at St. Joseph's Hospital, after an illness of several months. He had undergone a collapse in the afternoon and had received Viaticum, but he had rallied, and had spoken cheerfully to his friends until a few moments before death. He was seventy-three years of age and in the fifty-seventh year of his religious life,

Cincinnati was the home of Father Kinsella's boyhood. When he was born, in 1849, Ohio was still looked upon as far west, and the Queen City of the Service, loyalty, scholarship, these are the magic keys that unlock the magic door to membership in Creighton's honorary fraternity. These are the worth-while things of student life, and it is right that they should be given proper recognition.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

Yale has her Skull and Bones, Harvard her Triangle Club, and Nebraska her Innocents. The entrance qualifications to these societies are similar to those of Alpha Sigma Tau, and they are looked upon as the highest form of honor any student can obtain on the campus.

Our honorary fraternity will soon enter into its third year at Creighton. In the near future, the fraternity will announce its new members from among the junior classmen in each department. Nominations to membership should be placed on a par with those to the Union Board; for scholarship, service and loyalty must be stressed at Creighton, if we are to maintain a lofty position among American universities.

As the fraternity grows older and her position on the campus becomes surrounded by tradition, we may expect many benefits from this organization, through its members. At Harvard and Yale the honorary societies have much to say about the conduct of student affairs, and the support of campus activities. Creighton confidently looks forward to the day when her honorary fraternity shall likewise be a ruling factor on the campus.

THE PATHS OF AESCHYLUS

With the rapid rise of the little theatre in America, we are led to wonder why no similar movement towards things dramatic has been felt at Creighton. True, we have our courses in drama, technical and critical; but little interest is shown at present in the staging of dramatic productions.

It is difficult to understand why this condition should exist. It is not because we are lacking in talent or facilities for staging such productions. A certain group of Creighton students have staged several plays before an Omaha audience, and their efforts were very favorably received. It is to be regretted that these plays had to be produced by an outside organization. The university auditorium can be used advantageously in staging any production that a college dramatic club would undertake.

A university dramatic club would be a favorable innovation at Creighton. Last year, a group of men, interested in dramatics, endeavored to form such an organization. Support was not given in quarters from which it should have come, and as a result Creighton does not possess a dramatic club today. We believe the time is ripe for starting a new agitation in this regard.

A New Name for It

Johnny came back from the circus very much excited.
"Oh, mamma," he cried, as soon as he got into the house, "Kate spilt some peanuts, and what do you suppose the elephant did? He picked 'em up with his vacuum cleaner."—Exchange.

Safety First

"Going to drive through to California this summer?" we asked a neighbor.
"Nope," he replied. "Going on the train. There's a lot of grade crossing races to be run between here and California and I want to be riding on the winner."—Kansas City Star.

CLUB ROOMS POPULAR WITH STUDENTS

The ancient and honorable game of chess has been restored to popular favor, judging by the number of students that throng the Union clubrooms daily to take part in this pastime. Almost every hour of the afternoon finds several games in progress, and the clubrooms have come to be the favorite haunt of innumerable chess fans. Like its sister game, checkers also has a large following in the student body.

E. B. Goodman, Law senior, is generally acknowledged to be Creighton's most skillful handler of the chessmen and checkers. One of Goodman's favorite stunts is to play several games simultaneously, and more often than not, he comes through them all with flying colors. Sammy Carmell, a protege of Goodman's and Omaha's promising young violinist, is by special dispensation permitted in the clubrooms, and shows considerable prowess, considering his tender years.

Not far behind Goodman in the intricacies of chess is Bob Patton, of debating fame. Patton boasts of several victories over Goodman, not, however without a fight. "Ike" Mahoney, varsity basketball center, is equally at home on the chess or checker board, and the same uncanny ability that enables him on the court to size up an opponent's play before it has started, serves him in good stead in chess. Maybe chess is what is responsible for the development of "Ike's" speed and bulging muscles. Who knows?

Among the more or less invincible checker-players are Kenneth Grace, Charles Vance, William Fewer, Pat Murphy, Johnny Trautman, and a host of others too numerous to mention. Card games are also enjoying tremendous popularity, as the well-thumbed packs of cards furnished by the Union will testify. High-five seems to be the universal favorite among the devotees of cards, while poker and black-jack have practically no following, due probably to the proximity of "Sheriff" Endres.

The magazine-rack is always well patronized, and a large number of current popular magazines is kept in constant circulation. Gradually, the clubrooms are coming to be the leisure hour home of Creighton students, and the number of those who take advantage of its various facilities for study, reading, and amusement, is ever on the increase.

WITH THE FRATS

Alpha Sigma Tau

Alpha Sigma Tau will inaugurate its new members some time after Easter. A grand university affair will be given at that time at which all the deans of the various departments will be present. On this occasion the candidates will be tapped. There is considerable speculation as to who the lucky men will be—no dope is available.

YE BACHELORS

It will soon be time for all the seniors to make their solemn vows to one another to remain a bachelor the rest of their days. They plan to go forth into the professional world, to love all alike and show special affection for no one. But, alas, that vow has been broken more often than a pledge taken by a prohibition leader.

Most people believe bachelors are women haters, but have you ever noticed how many women are always willing to mend their sox when they are worn and how many of the fair sex will promise to care for them and nurse them back to health when they are ill. No, bachelors are not women haters, but quite the opposite.

Many think the idea of a bachelor originated with the cave man, but this is not true, because where there are wild men, there must also be wild women.

We find the cave man living in his own special dwelling, so we see how the bachelor apartment originated. The bachelor apartments are a wonderful place. No women can break the shroud that surrounds them and keeps them a mystery to all except the occupants. We find many of these buildings in our cities, where the tired bachelor retreats after his day's work to rest his weary body. He has no one to caress him, one minute, and in the next to tell him that the price of the gown, in the window at the shop, has been reduced.

Boys, its a wonderful life, but remember the words of the poet: "Its better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all."

AT THE MODEL HOUSE

It's hard to frame a bill so that it will pass the Creighton Model House without undergoing such alteration that its father would never recognize it if he met it alone some dark night.

Mr. Moonan, who introduced a bill providing for the creation of a movie censorship board, realized this one Friday night, when a motion that the words, "five citizens" in the provisions for membership of the board be amended to read, "a member of the W. C. T. U., a bootlegger, a farmer, a minister, and an ex-soldier" was carried.

The House thought the proposed salary of $2500 a year for members of the board was an exorbitant amount and that those members would be most happy to offer their services to better the morals of the people of Nebraska for the sum of $25 a year. One legislator offered to accept the position, although he thought even $1 a year was rather a large sum of money to appropriate for this purpose.

Something of a disturbance ensued when the member who rose to his full four and a half feet and explained that he was on his feet when told to stand up,

Get out the old ball, ye handball artists, and tune up the old form. You have a chance to become a real champion, receive a medal, an' everything.

The Mid-Western A. A. U. is putting on a championship meet, Friday and Saturday nights, March 23rd and 24th, at our "gym." The sole requirements are to be a registered athlete, and pay an entry fee of four-bits ($.50), by March 16.

Solid Gold and Silver medals will be given the winners, and runners-up, in both singles and doubles.

Our "gym" is veritable Utopia for the handball fan. Five courts are available. Then let's see that Creighton keeps those championships 'neath her own banner.

Examinations are in full swing at the Dental college, and most of the boys are "hanging close" to the place they call home sweet home.

Everyone is busy now. No one is late. Every student is wearing a serious look on his face and the following general question is heard in every corridor: "How did you make out?" The answer may be either, "That sure is tuff" or, "That 'a boy, Petey, old boy."

FATHER KINSELLA DIES
AFTER PROTRACTED ILLNESS

West was the small but important metropolis of a vast, half-developed region. St. Xavier's College, in Cincinnati, was one of the very few institutions of higher learning for the youth of the country beyond the Alleghanies, and Father Kinsella attended this college from 1861 to 1866, during the exciting time of the Civil War and of the year immediately following it. On August 30, 1866, when just seventeen years old, he entered the Society of Jesus at Florissant, Mo. After four years there and a triennium of philosophy at Woodstock, Md., he taught from 1873 to 1876 at the recently established St. Ignatius college, Chicago, now a department of Loyola university. He returned to Woodstock for four years of theology, and was ordained in 1879; and after three more years in Chicago from '80 to '83, he was stationed successively at Detroit university, St. Mary's college, Kas., and Marquette university, and finally came to Creighton in '88. Beginning here with the professorship of rhetoric and humanities, he went with the same class through three years, until, as Creighton's first professor of philosophy, he brought the five pioneer graduates to the completion of their course in 1891. In February, '94, he was called to Detroit, where he taught philosophy as at Creighton; but he returned to Omaha in '95, and took charge of St. John's Church. From '96 to 1905 he held a chair of philosophy at St. Louis university, and in the latter year came back to Creighton, where he remained until his death.

But though Father Kinsella spent so many successful years in the classroom, it is rather as a spiritual director than as a professor that he will be remembered.

ARRANGE FOR INTER-SCHOOL GOLF MEETS

It is the aim of Mr. Schabinger to make golf a major sport at Creighton. Negotiations are under way, at present, for a meet with Nebraska, Kansas and Drake universities.

A meeting in the near future, is planned for those wishing to enter. Letters will be awarded provided there is sufficient competition.

In spite of his frail build and scant physical strength, and in spite of his occupations in the various colleges, he traveled untiringly to all parts of the Middle West and gave in the course of his life no fewer than fifty-nine eight-day retreats and thirty-three shorter ones, besides conducting about thirty-six less formal courses of spiritual instruction to religious persons, and giving in addition a great number of talks, sermons, and lectures in churches and private chapels. His confessions numbered many thousands yearly, and many persons sought his advice in the way of Christian perfection.

He was remarkable for nothing so much as for the modesty that adorned his many other high qualities. He was not the man to attract attention, with his small stature, his low voice, and his gentleness of manner; but in conversation with a few friends his easy flow of speech showed a scholarship that was as far removed from pedantry as his exquisite refinement was removed from affectation. He was the type of a gentleman and of a priest. His piety made him ever appreciative of spiritual thoughts and aspirations, but his cordial companionship made him as ready for a joke or an amusing story as for a learned discussion. He had modeled his life on the plain, unassuming life of Christ; and while he directed himself and others by the sublime principles of the Gospel, he applied the principles of humility and charity by unflinching courtesy and readiness to serve. If he has left a monument it is in the affection of friends and in the central library of Creighton, which he built up by many years of devoted application as librarian. More important and more lasting is the grand edifice of American Catholicity and Catholic edu-

"Team play usually wins ball games but personalities draw the crowds. Ruth, McGraw, Cobb, Sisler—these are names that make the baseball turnstiles click. A man, a personality, an individual interests a crowd more than the actions of a team.

A Denver basketball team, practically unknown a month ago, has won a place in the limelight because of a personality. Kearney, one of the greatest basketball men that has ever played in Denver, has placed the Roche Ambulance team among the best known in Denver. They played the Mintra Painters the other night and were conceded but little chance to win but the gymnasium was packed to the doors. The crowd was out to see Kearney play the Mintras. He is a superman in basketball. In addition he has a picturesque personality. He has supreme confidence in himself. He is a good basketball player and he knows it. Yet at the same time this knowledge is not offensive and Kearney is a real sportsman both on and off the floor. And it is these combined attributes that make Kearney such a wonderful drawing card in basketball."

to the rearing of which he contributed as a humble worker who sought not notice above his fellows and whose sufficient reward was the happiness of working for Christ.

The funeral was held from St. John's church on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. John A. McCormick, president of Creighton university, was the celebrant of the Requiem High Mass. Archbishop J. J. Hartz was present in the sanctuary and gave the final blessing.

The sanctuary was filled with the members of the Jesuit community and with many priests of the Omaha diocese, who had made the acquaintance of Father Kinsella in his long years of priestly service.

Six students of the senior class of the Arts department were the pall-bearers.

The body rested in state in St. John's church from 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon until 9 o'clock Monday morning, when the office of the dead was chanted.

CREIGHTON HOLDS FIRST SWIM MEET

Creighton's first aquatic meet was run off with many a ripple in the gymnasium last Saturday evening. The principal group of entries came from Creighton and Nebraska universities and the Omaha Athletic club.

Due to the fact that championship swimming is a new sport at Creighton, the meet was not a Creighton victory. The O. A. C. tank artist copped the major share of the honors, with all three places in both of the 100 yards, Mid-Western A. A. U. Junior Championship events, and with a third place in the 50 yards A. A. U. race.

Bill Thomas, crack O. A. C. merman, was high man for his organization taking a first in the 100 yards breast-stroke and a third in the 100-yard back-stroke event.

The Hunton brothers of Nebraska took first and second places in the 50-yard free style A. A. U. race.

Jack Foster of Creighton Prep scored two firsts and one second in the closed events for Creighton men exclusively.

John Vasco, with a first and one second, and A. Mester, who won a first and a third, were high point men among the college students entered.

The Results

Plunge for distance, closed event: Frank McGuire, first, 42 feet; Jack Foster, second, 40 1-2 feet.

Fifty-yard swim: Creighton swimmers only: A. Mester, first, 32 seconds; John Vasco, second; William Hanna, third. (No time).

Mid-Western A. A. U. Junior 100-yard breast-stroke championship: Bill Thomas, first, O. A. C.; Dr. S. E. Isaacson, O. A. C., second; Irvin Nelson, O. A. C., third. Time, 1:35.

Fifty-yard free style swim: Creighton Prep only: Jack Foster, first; Robert Diesing, second; Joe Phalin, third. Time, 29 4-5 seconds.

Mid-Western A. A. U. Junior fifty-yard free style championship: Jack Hunton, Nebraska U., first; Frank Hunton, Nebraska U., second; Vernon Hudder, O. A. C., third. Time, 28 seconds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS HINDER PROGRESS OF ENDOWMENTCAMPAIGN

Workers Probably to Have Time Extension

The Creighton drive is rolling merrily along, although the weather conditions have not been favorable for active canvassing.

One snow after another has helped to retard those canvassing for the interests of Creighton, but day by day the goal sought is just a little nearer attainment.

The workers in the residence districts are hardest hit by the bad weather. For when snow doesn't impede their progress, the mud and water does. However, they are swinging into it, with real Spartan efforts, and it is probable that a time extension will be given them to make up for the time lost.

The chairman of the various residential districts are as follows:

District 1—Frank J. McDermott, centering Fortieth and Burt streets.

District 2—The Rev. Leo Blaschko, centering Thirty-first and Vinton streets.

SO SAY THE PHARMICS

There are so many angles to the modern Pharmacy course, which the aspiring pharmonic must acquire before becoming a full fledged "pill roller," that the freshman are becoming thinner and thinner every day.

One of the essential things that a student must learn in order to pass the State Board is an accurate knowledge of the revenue laws. Text-book knowledge of this subject is very essential, but an actual knowledge of the law as put into practice is also needed.

An expert authority on these laws, Mr. Leppert, Collector of Internal Revenues for the Omaha district, addressed the students of the Pharmacy department on The Harrison Drug Law several weeks ago.

District 21—The Rev. B. Sinne, centering post office.

District 22—Dr. C. F. Patton, East Omaha.

District 32—The Rev. John F. Wiczorek, no boundaries; Polish.

District 33—Charles J. Nemeck, no boundaries; Bohemian.

District 34—Dr. W. E. Stoft, centering Miller park.

Council Bluffs—T. J. Leary.

ARRANGEMENT FOR ELECTIONS COMPLETE

The list of candidates for positions on the Board of Governors remains the same as last week, with one exception. Students from the Medical school have petitioned William McCarthy to run for this office.

DENTAL NOTES

A general stir has manifested itself among the dental student body, during the last week. Everyone is asking the question, who are the lucky two? The mystery lies in the fact that the faculty will soon choose two of the present juniors for the honorary fraternity, Alpha Sigma Tau.

A rumor afloat asserts that the names of those chosen from the different departments would be disclosed at the Student Union Dance shortly after Easter. But as all other rumors, we must wait until the final day to judge their truth.

Very Smart

"That brother of mine is smart—the smartest man I ever saw."

"And is that so?"

"Yes, quite true, my friend."

"Well, I'll wager he wasn't smarter than my brother."

"And how do you know?"

"Well, mine was so smart he could even tell the day he was going to die."

"And how could he do that?"

"Simple enough; the judge told him."

HAWKEYES SET PACE FOR ALL OTHER STATE CLUBS

"We're from Iowa,
We're from Iowa.

That's where the tall corn grows."

Chorusing this refrain, a large number of native Hawkeyes closed an enthusiastic meeting in the Moot court room of the Law school on Tuesday, March 6.

Among the many state clubs recently organized, the Iowa club is setting the pace as far as enthusiasm and activity of its membership goes. The club has already adopted an official emblem to be worn by members, and an official letter-head. The club meets regularly on the first Tuesday of every month, and its next meeting will be in the form of a smoker in the Union club room.

With the close of the Lenten season, the Iowa club intends to blossom into the social field. On Friday, April 3, it will entertain its members with a dance in the gymnasium. President Ralph Kastner says that it will be some party.

In the next few weeks it is planned to bring the club membership to a one hundred per cent basis. A membership chairman has been appointed in each department, and every class in the university will have one member on the membership committee. Every Creighton man, who hails from Iowa, is eligible to become a member.

RELIGION ESSAY

The annual essays in Evidences of Religion were handed in on Tuesday, March 13. The subject this year was, "The Divinity of Christ as demonstrated by the Gospels."

Rt. Rev. McGovern, the Bishop of Cheyenne, Wyoming, is the donor of the prize, a gold medal. Robert Burkley, '22, was the winner last year.

Some Game

A man passing a lot where two colored teams were playing baseball, asked the man on first base how the score stood. He replied, "forty to nothing, favor the other side."

"Well, they seem to be giving you quite a beating." "No Suh," replied the dorky, "We ain' been to bat yet."—Selected.
