Lithuanian Cadets Visit Creighton: Cadets from the Military Academy of the Republic of Lithuania will be visiting Creighton from March 29-April 8. During their stay with the Lithuanian-American Community, Omaha Chapter, the three cadets will attend classes, participate in Army ROTC activities and visit Offutt Air Force Base and celebrate Lithuania's membership in NATO. The visit is part of Creighton's ongoing exchange program with major Lithuanian universities. back to headlines

Creighton Employees Get Discount on Lauritzen Gardens Memberships: Lauritzen Gardens, Omaha's botanical center, is offering special savings on annual membership fees for Creighton University employees. Discounts are available if you purchase your membership before May 30. Complete information about Lauritzen Gardens is available at <http://www.omahabotanicalgardens.org>. Through this special offer to Creighton employees, a one-year family membership would cost just $40--a discount of $20 off the regular price. For an information package and special Creighton membership application form, contact Steve Kline, Creighton Public Relations, at skline@creighton.edu. Be sure to include your campus mail address in the e-mail. back to headlines

"Can God Be Free?" This presentation of the Philosophy/Theology Lecture Series will be held Tuesday, March 30, at 7 p.m. in the Skutt Student Center, Room 104. William Rowe will address how, if God is necessarily perfect in power, knowledge, and goodness, God can be free not to create a good world, or free to create less than the best world. Rowe is a professor of philosophy at Purdue University. He has held numerous fellowships and is the author of five books, including his recent, Can God Be Free? The lecture is co-sponsored by the Center for the Study of Religion and Society and the Philosophy and Theology Departments; it is free and open to the public.
