

FRIENDLY TALES

Friendly Tales

BOOK ONE

Beacon Literary Readers

EDITED BY J. COMPTON, M.A.

Ginn and Company Ltd

18 BEDFORD ROW

LONDON, W.C.1

Acknowledgments

For permission to use copyright material in this book the editor gives grateful acknowledgment to the following authors and publishers:

Mr. Walter de la Mare and Messrs. Constable and Company for Some One (from Peacock Pie); Miss M. F. Lansing for her adaptations of Belling the Cat and Two Merry Tales of the Wise Men of Gotham; to Mr. Walter Taylor Field for his versions of Childe Roland, The Timid Hares and The Brave Pedlar; to Miss R. Smith and Miss A. H. Sutton for their version of The Magic Iron Pot; to Miss Eleanor Farjeon and the Oxford University Press for Saint Francis (from The Children's Bells); to Mr. G. L. Wilson for Why the Baby says "Goo" and Old Winter Man and the Spring Maiden; to Miss Edith Sitwell and Mr. Basil Blackwell for two poems entitled The King of China's Daughter; to Miss M. E. Pennell and Miss A. M. Cusack for their version of The Jackal and the Alligator; to Miss Eleanor Farjeon and Messrs. Selwyn and Blount for Light the Lamps Up, Lamplighter; and to Mr. Walter Taylor Field and Messrs. Dodd Mead and Company (Inc.) for How the Hen got Her Speckles (Copyright 1917). The editor desires also to express very warmly his indebtedness to Miss E. H. Grassam, whose co-operation has been at every point invaluable, and to whose fine taste and wide reading these books owe very much.

Selection and arrangement
J. Compton and E. H. Grassam

1931

Revised edition 1961
Twenty-sixth impression 1963

206305

Printed in Great Britain by W. S. Cowell Ltd, Ipswich

Contents

|  |    |
|--|----|
| The Wee Wee WomanAn Old English Nursery Tale      | 9  |
| Some OneWalter de la Mare                         | 13 |
| Belling the CatAn Aesop Fable retold              | 14 |
| Childe RolandAn Old English Fairy Tale            | 21 |
| The Magic Iron PotAn English Folk Tale            | 30 |
| The Timid HaresA Hindu Fable                      | 38 |
| Saint FrancisEleanor Farjeon                      | 42 |
| What is Pink?Christina Rossetti                   | 45 |
| Snow White and the Seven DwarfsA German Folk Tale | 46 |
| Two Songs of ArielWilliam Shakespeare             | 56 |

Contents

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Why the Baby says "Goo"A Red Indian Myth              | 58  |
| The Nutmeg Tree:   |     |
| I I had a little nut treeAn Old Rhyme                 | 63  |
| II The King of China's daughterEdith Sitwell          | 64  |
| III The King of China's daughterEdith Sitwell         | 65  |
| Stone SoupAn Old Irish Story                          | 66  |
| The Jackal and the AlligatorAn Old Story              | 73  |
| The Brave PedlarA Folk Tale                           | 78  |
| Light the Lamps up, LamplighterEleanor Farjeon        | 85  |
| Two Merry TalesThe Wise Men of Gotham                 | 87  |
| How the Hen got her SpecklesA Brazilian Fairy Tale    | 95  |
| Boots and his BrothersA Norse Tale                    | 107 |
| The Naughty BoyJohn Keats                             | 118 |
| Old Winter Man and the Spring MaidenA Red Indian Myth | 121 |
| The Stone MonkeyA Chinese Story                       | 125 |