On Wednesday, Sept. 5, at 6 p.m., Bryan Le Beau, Kenefick Chair in the Humanities, will co-sponsor a lecture at the Joslyn Art Museum by University of Iowa art historian, Joni Kinsey. Kinsey will be speaking on the art of Thomas Moran, whose work is on exhibit at the museum. The title of Kinsey's talk will be "Places Into Paintings." Creighton faculty, students and staff are admitted free to the museum with their Creighton IDs. For further information, contact Le Beau at x3697.

The Omaha Primary Care Update 2001 will be held Friday, Nov. 9, at the Omaha Country Club, 6900 Country Club Road. Featured presenters and topics will be: Archana Chatterjee on vaccines; Gary Elsasser on new drugs; Harvey Anthony Jones Hopkins on sleep disorders; Russell Hopp on allergic rhinitis and asthma; and Patricio Reyes on Alzheimer's disease. The program is designed for physicians, nurse practitioners, physician assistants and pharmacists. For more information or to register, please call Continuing Medical Education at x1830. For a listing of upcoming CME activities, visit <http://medicine.creighton.edu/medschool/cme>.

Study Participants Needed: The Osteoporosis Research Center is seeking nuclear families to participate in a study. A nuclear family is defined as parents and children age 19 and older. The study involves a bone density scan and providing a blood specimen for linkage analysis. This is an opportunity to help medical science learn about genetic factors associated with bone mass and to learn about your own bone health. A stipend is available. If you have any questions, please call the study project manager, Butch Elze, at x4474.

On Thursday, Sept. 20, Creighton University will co-host the Annual Governor's Lecture in the Humanities. The featured speaker will be the award winning author and historian, David McCullough. The title of his talk will be "First Principles," and it will be related to his most recent, best-selling book on John Adams. The lecture begins at 8 p.m. in the Witherspoon Auditorium at the Joslyn Art Museum. Creighton faculty will be admitted at the discount price of $10, but they must order their tickets in advance. The deadline is Sept. 14, but tickets may sell out before that date. To order tickets, send a check for $10 payable to the Nebraska Humanities Council, 215 Centennial Mall South, Suite 225, Lincoln, NE 68508. If you have any questions concerning the tickets, call the NHC at 402-474-2131. If you have any questions concerning the event, call Bryan Le Beau, Kenefick Chair in the Humanities, at x3697.

Nebraska Women's Caucus Examines Life Cycles: The Creighton Lied Art Gallery in the Lied Education Center for the Arts presents an exhibit featuring work from more than 50 members of the Nebraska Women's Caucus for Art. The exhibit, "Life Cycles," shows the artists' examination of "the concept of art as the of a living thing," said Nebraska Women's Caucus for Art President Kate Brooke. The exhibit runs from Aug. 18-Sept. 8. The exhibit opening and a special panel discussion will be held Aug. 25 from 1 to 4 p.m. The panelists will be: Soni Cochran, extension associate, University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension in Lancaster County; Janet Farber, associate curator of 20th Century Art at the Joslyn Art Museum; and Ladette Randolph, associate editor of the University of Nebraska Press. Each panelist will make a 20-minute presentation concerning the cycles of life within their professions. The opening will begin at 1 p.m.; panel discussions will start at 2 p.m. For more information about this exhibit, please contact Fr. Ted Bohr, S.J., gallery director, at x2261.

Did you think that subscribing to The New York Times would be too expensive? Get a discounted subscription for only $2 per week. For more information, call Marcia Bakkerud at x1706 or Ron Wallquist at x1714.

Creighton University will be hosting the annual Omaha Jesuit College Fair on Monday, Sept. 10, from 6:30-9 p.m. This year, 13 Jesuit colleges and universities from across the country will be represented. The Jesuit College Fair will be at the Omaha Marriott located at 10220 Regency Circle. This would be a great way for your high school students to become more familiar with various Jesuit college opportunities nationwide. The following are the Jesuit colleges and universities that will be in attendance: Creighton University, Marquette University, College of the Holy Cross, Gonzaga University, John Carroll University, Loyola University of New Orleans, Regis University, Rockhurst University, Saint Louis University, Loyola University of Chicago, Xavier University, University of Detroit Mercy and Santa Clara University. If you or your student would like additional information, please contact Sierra Goetz in Undergraduate Admissions at x2703 or sgoetz@creighton.edu.
