

STUDENTS RATIFY CONSTITUTION OF NEW COMM. CLUB

Formal Ratification By Faculty Necessary Before Going Into Effect

MANY ACTIVITIES

Following its unanimous ratification by the students representative committee, at a meeting held Monday afternoon in the Commerce building, the constitution of the Creighton Chamber of Commerce, which will be the largest organization in the university, will go into effect immediately after approval by the faculty. According to Dean Floyd E. Walsh, the constitution has already received informal approval, and needs only the formality of a vote at a regular faculty meeting.

The constitution provides for the appointment of from twenty to twenty-four students of the college of Commerce, Finance, and Journalism to the honorary committee, based on merit. The Chamber of Commerce is to act as a working unit for all student activities, and will inaugurate and perpetuate several Commerce traditions.

Appointment of members to the first Chamber will be made by the faculty by next Tuesday, according to an announcement from the office of the dean, and the members will hold their first meeting to elect officers and perfect the organization towards the end of the week. According to the constitution, only seniors will be eligible to hold office for the first year, but in future years any member who receives two appointments to the Chamber will be eligible.

Membership is to terminate at the expiration of the school year, and the members for the new year will be appointed at the first regular faculty meeting in October, with the exception of the freshmen representatives, who will not be appointed until the second semester. Three members are to be appointed from each of the four classes, and eight members will be chosen from the student body at large, regardless of classification. In addition, four new members may be appointed at any time during the school year, at the discretion of the faculty, for unrecognized and meritorious service.

STUDENTS ATTENTION CALLED TO "SIMBA"

Attention of the student body of Creighton is called to the announcement made in the Nov. 28 issue of the Creightonian, of Simba, which opened at the Sun Theater on that date.

The picture, said to be the finest of its kind ever to be exhibited to the Omaha public, deals with the travels of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, with part in Dulcstone effect, as has already been announced. Students may secure tickets entitling them to half rate prices from the mail box near the Office of the Dean of Men and at other designated places in the other schools.

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN

A surprise party was given Ida Zoe Tenenbaum at her home, Sunday evening, by twenty-four of her friends in celebration of her recovery from injuries sustained in a recent automobile accident, several weeks ago.

Dr. Cassidy of Law School Proves To be a Santa Claus in Disguise

By Gene Mari Vana
Dr. Lewis C. Cassidy, new professor in the Law school, can be one of two things; either he is a born philanthropist, or a teacher for not a very long period of time. Knowing what we do about the good Doctor's pedagogical career we must believe the first premise.

Displaying a finesse for doing things not generally evidenced by members of his profession, Dr. Cassidy inquired at the law school office and was pleasantly surprised to find that twenty potential lawyers had been present to answer "yea" at 100 per cent. of the meetings of his Criminal Law and Torts classes.

Something must be done to reward such virtue. One thought gradually led to another and the Doctor had The Thought. He announced that these twenty yearlings would draw for a prize; the prize to

Joc Beha Is Advised To Play Basketball

Lapses of memory, which seems to be an affliction going around the campus, as witness the Larry Tierney affair, seems to have found victims among the co-eds as well as huskies on the football team. An unnamed co-ed is said to have approached Joe Beha, Freshman football coach and last year's stellar guard and captain of the basket ball team, and asked him a most startling question. Standing coyly on her tip-toes and with a loyal Creightonian light beaming in her serious eyes, she said:

"Mr. Beha, why don't you play basket ball?"

"What!" boomed Honest Joe in his most shocked tones.

"I say you should play basket ball. You're a big fellow like Fritz Kampf."

Somehow Joe was able to see the irony of fate and desisted from despoiling an angelic little face. It took the better part of five minutes rummaging through last year's records and newspapers to prove to her who he really was.

KNIGHTS TO STAGE PARADE AND RALLY

New Pep Club Plans Demonstrations for Drake Game at Meeting at Gym

Amid roars of enthusiasm and spontaneous bursts of singing to the tunes of "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," the Knights of the Bluejay conducted their largest pep rally since the organization of the club in the Student Union offices Monday evening.

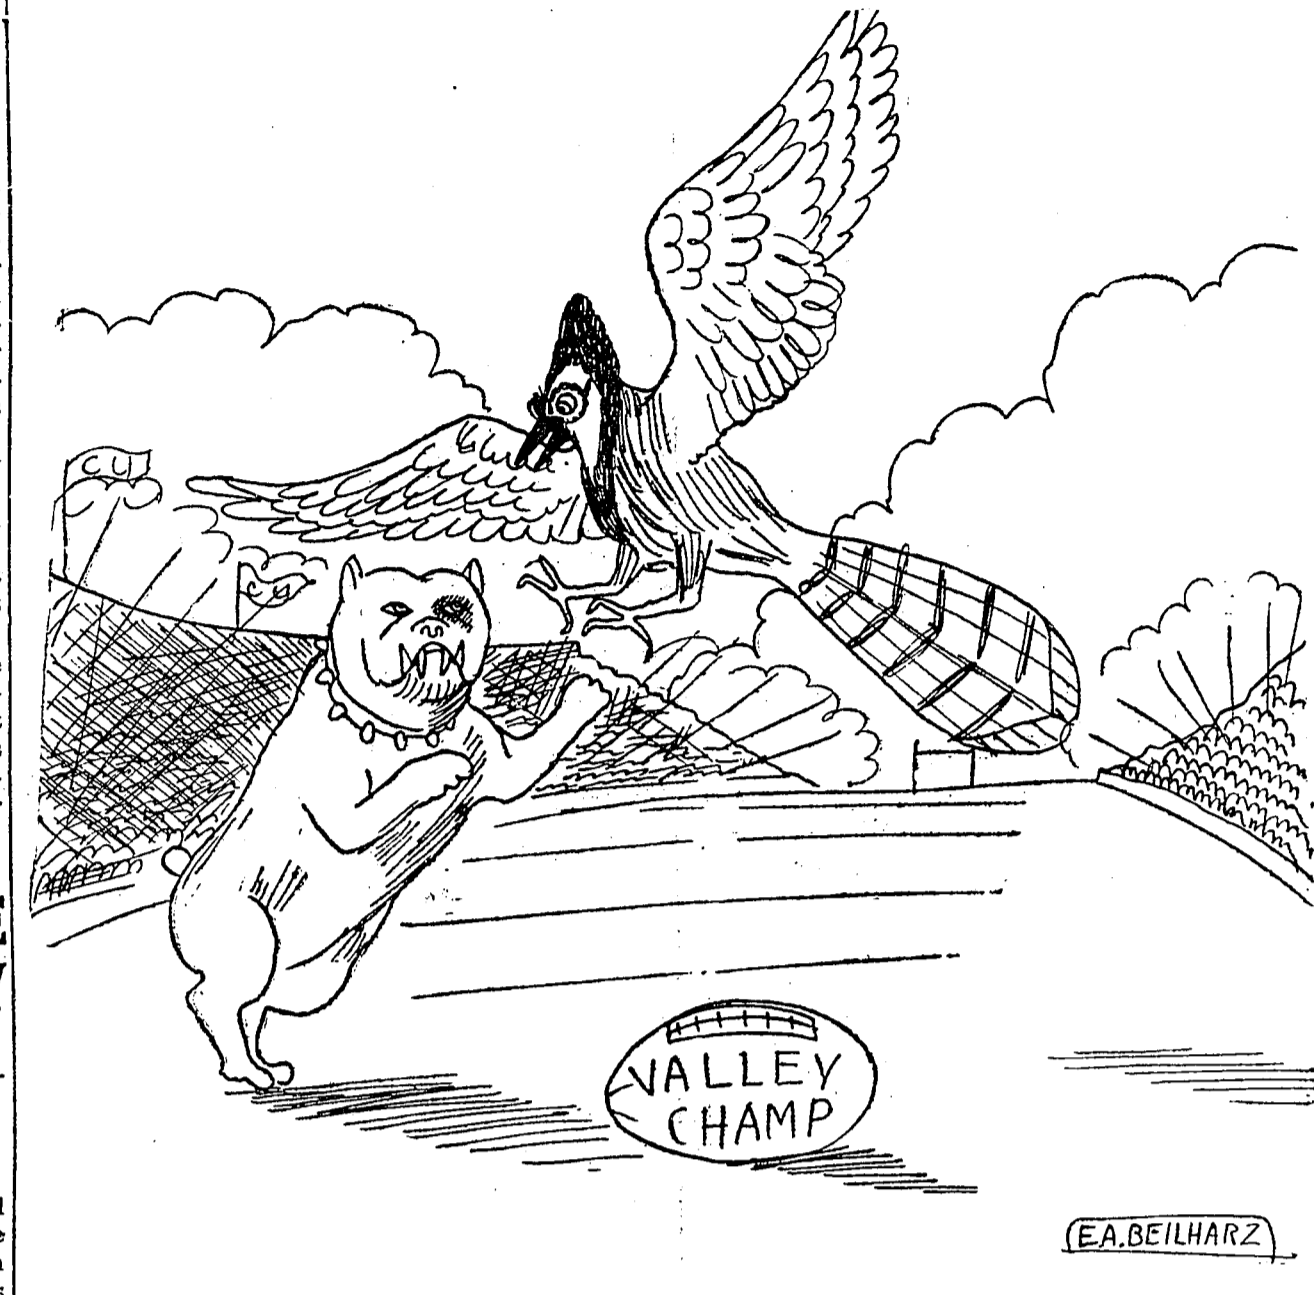

President Beattie opened the meeting with an address outlining the duties of the committees which had been appointed at their first official meeting. On the parade committee Beattie gave the members their rules, which were to form, foster, conduct and oversee the parades. The organization committee were ordered to see that action and life were to be instilled in the student body. The Glee club committee combined with the orchestra committee were exhorted to promote and develop the musical talent of the university. The feature committees were urged to bring forward original and "peppy" displays for parades and all other activities of the Bluejay Knights.

Rev. J. A. Herbers, S. J., Dean of men, addressed the Knights, giving his impressions of the student enthusiasm as exhibited by the Drake students at the Drake-Ames game last Saturday which he witnessed with Coach Wynne and McMullan. He asked the Knights to make every effort to stir up interest among the student body for the Turkey Day tussle with the Drake Bulldogs.

Father Herbers also consented and boosted the student parade to take place this evening at 7:00 p. m. to start from the gym and to pass through down town streets. Beattie announced after Father Herbers' talk that the entire student body was invited to participate and that he expected one of the largest turnouts for this event in the history of pep activities on the hilltop.

Musical entertainment was furnished by Charles Maxwell at the piano, and Leo Hendrich leading the singing. An orchestra composed of J. Timlin, L. Grant, H. Crevier, J. Gatwood, and J. Tomek also assisted in the entertainment.

ORATORS DEBATE ON VARSITY QUESTION

Decide to Discard Jury System in Contest at Meeting of Last Monday

The Oratorical Society enjoyed one of the snappiest sessions of the year in its meeting held Monday night in the moot court room. The feature debate on the varsity question, "Resolved, that a substitute for trial by jury should be adopted," was won by the affirmative team which was composed of Robert Millisen and Nathan Gilinsky. The negative was upheld by Howard Kanauff and Ray Post.

Victor Hrushka acted as critic. The committee reports furnished the humorous element of the meeting. Substantial progress was reported by all the committees, especially by the membership committee, of which James Fitzgerald is chairman and sole member. The Ways and Means committee reported through its chairman, John Dugan, that it has been in session continuously since its appointment a week ago.

Grace Ringer

Creighton play goes will again see Grace Aldrich Ringer in a character part when she appears as Mrs. Jones in "Lightnin'" which will be presented by the Creighton Players at the Creighton Auditorium on December 13 and 14.

Mrs. Ringer played her first part in a major play at Creighton last year when she played a character lead in "The Detour."

CAREY, TICKET SALE SPONSOR, DIES SUDDENLY

George M. Carey, 40, who has been director of the advertising and public relations for the Eppley Hotels company, for the past four years, died suddenly Wednesday night in Chicago. He was returning from New York and expected to arrive here Friday.

Mr. Carey took an active part in the recent ticket sale for the Creighton football games, acting as sponsor of one of the down town teams.

FR. AGNEW PREACHES AT ST. CECILIA'S CATHEDRAL

Rev. William H. Agnew, S. J., president of Creighton University, preached a sermon, in St. Cecilia's cathedral, at the 11 o'clock pontifical high Mass, Sunday, Nov. 25, on the subject St. Cecilia.

TWENTY-FIVE ENROLL IN BEAUX ART CLUB

Prof. Goeser Faculty Advisor; Club Will Consist Mostly of Freshmen

The first reorganization meeting of the Beaux Art club was held at 10:00 a. m. Sunday in the music room on the fourth floor of the Arts building. Prof. Alvin H. Goeser, faculty advisor, presided.

Twenty-five members were enrolled and given full membership. As announced last week in the Creightonian the class will consist largely of freshmen.

Three committees were appointed, each to handle a separate activity, e. g., music, publicity, and the weekly program.

The motto adopted was taken from the ancient philosopher, Socrates, "No man really lives until he is reborn." The purpose of the club as explained by Prof. Goeser, is to promote an interest in literature and the finer arts among the students.

A program was outlined for the regular meeting to be held Dec. 9. Charles I. Carlino, medic senior and artist, addressed the club and made arrangements to exhibit some of his oil paintings made in New York during his summer vacation.

NOTICE

All students in the university who have taken part in a Dramatic Club play either last year or this year are requested to be at Matsuo Studio, Sunday, Dec. 2, at 10:30 A. M., for the picture of the Creighton Players for the Bluejay.

HRUSHKA IS CAPTAIN OF DEBATING SQUAD

Wins Honor by Toss of Coin After Deadlock With Louis Lipp; Squad is Split

The flip of a coin decided the election of the debate captain after they had been deadlocked through four ballots, Thursday, in the Law college, when Victor Hrushka won the toss from Louis Lipp.

Hrushka is a junior in Arts and is in his second year in debate competition. He is a graduate from Tech high and lives in Omaha.

Lipp is a Law junior and was last year's debate captain. He is also an Omahan.

Debate coach Frank Fogarty announced four additional opponents signed up for this year's debate schedule. St. Mary's College of St. Mary's, Kansas, is to meet Creighton here around Jan. 10, and the return engagement to be held at St. Mary's sometime in March. The Bluejay debaters will journey to Milwaukee.

Paul Shaughnessy, the Creighton medic-actor, who has been cast as Lightnin' Bill Jones in the next Creighton Players play, "Lightnin'" has had the unusual experience of appearing in four major plays as well as numerous minor pieces during his career at Creighton.

Mr. Shaughnessy has played in "Charley's Aunt," "The Family Upstairs," "Ice Bound," and "Tommy." He was also in several performances of one-act plays which were broadcast over WOW.

Drake's Band to Play Over WOW and at Game

The 43-piece Bulldog band will arrive in Omaha today under the directorship of Irving H. Grossman, to play during the Bluejay-Bulldog game.

Director Grossman will be remembered as one of the members of the Drake debating team that clashed with the Creighton team here last spring. Grossman is a Council Bluffs boy.

This evening the Drake band will play over radio station WOW and will give a miniature concert in the lobby of the Riviera theater later, following their radio appearance.

While in Omaha they will make their headquarters at the Fontenelle hotel.

RIFLE TEAM TRYOUTS TO BEGIN ON DEC. 4

Team to Meet Representatives From Schools All Over the Country

First tryouts for Creighton rifle teams will take place on Dec. 4, or soon after that date, at the galleries under the south stadium. It is the intention of the ROTC authorities to have the gallery open both in the daytime and during the evening, to make it more convenient for students to try out for a team or practice, at hours most suitable to them in connection with their scholastic schedules.

Formation of the teams are up to the second year basic ROTC students and the contests will be taken care of by the ROTC staff. Most of the meets are to be held on the galleries of the respective teams, certified by army officers, reports to be made by mail. However, tentative plans are under way to hold a shoulder match with Nebraska university, which is among the schools from which challenges have been received. Such a match will depend upon the interest the students show, by turning out for tryouts and practice, says Major G. R. Hicks, commanding officer of the local unit.

Definite dates for tryouts and details of contests will be posted in the near future. A large number of men must turn out if teams are to be formed, because each team is made up of fifteen men, with several substitutes.

Among challenges received at ROTC headquarters, up to last Monday, are the following: Nebraska university, Lincoln; Kemper Military school, Booneville, Mo.; Rhode Island state college, Kingston, R. I.; Texas A. and M. college, Statum, Texas; Oregon state college, Corvallis, Oregon; Mississippi A. and M. and the University of California, Los Angeles, southern branch.

Blanks for the William R. Hearst Trophy, a contest which is open to all schools throughout the country, have also been received. Headquarters from which this trophy is awarded every year is at Chicago.

Paul Miller, LLB '28, was elected lecturer of the Knights of Columbus at Scottsbluff, Nebr., where he is practising with his classmate, James V. Welsh.

Father Corboy is Elected Chaplain by Omaha Post of American Legion

By GRACE RINGER

Within a few days of the corresponding time ten years ago when his outfit was sent into Germany with the Army of Occupation, the Rev. W. J. Corby, S. J., athletic board chairman of Creighton university recently was unanimously elected the first Catholic chaplain of the Omaha Post No. 1, American Legion.

To those who know Father Corboy, this honor is a well deserved recognition of his war service, which from the St. Mihiel drive, beginning Sept. 12, 1918, until the signing of the Armistice, was spent under fire.

When United States declared war in April, 1917, Father Corboy, with the consent of the Rev. Alexander Burrows, S. J., superior of the Missouri Province, enlisted as Chaplain with the rank of First Lieutenant in the 314th Ammunition Train.

He was sent to training school at Fortress Monroe, in Virginia, and at Camp Funston, Kansas, but apparently the rigors of army life held no terror for Father, for "Sure, it was great," he smiled.

Leaving the States in June, 1918, via the S. S. Cretic, Father's outfit landed at Liverpool. Cherbourg,

SCHOOL ROTC UNIT IS INSPECTED BY MAJ. GENERAL SUMMERALL

Chief of Staff U. S. Army Visits Creighton Monday, Nov. 26

CITES NATHAN HALE

Major General Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff in the U. S. army, accompanied by his staff, the Rev. Wm. H. Agnew, S. J., president of Creighton, the Rev. Charles Ryan, S. J., professor of English and former army chaplain, and the commissioned officers stationed here, inspected the Creighton ROTC battalion at 11:20 last Monday morning, in the gymnasium.

After heading local officers at ROTC headquarters, the party met the faculty in the office of the president of the university. Following this meeting Father Agnew and Father Ryan accompanied them to the gymnasium, where the ROTC battalion, including all cadet officers and the honorary colonel, Margaret Donohue, from Duchesne college, were drawn up in ranks.

A march was played by the ROTC band upon the arrival and departure of the official party.

General Praises Youth

Following a short inspection of the ranks, the General gave a few words of praise to the youth of America, and spoke of the big part they play in connection with the army and of their activities in past wars of this country. He also expressed his views concerning military in schools and the benefits derived by this training.

He cited the bravery and courage of Nathan Hale as an example of American youth of today. He recommended that ROTC units in schools be called the Nathan Hale units.

Describes Statue

Between the battery and Broadway, in New York, there is a statue of Nathan Hale, which resembles the courage of our young men of today. This figure of that young American soldier, which commands the respect and reverence of thousands, is a reminder of the accomplishments of the years passed.

Following the ceremony here, the General was the guest of honor at a luncheon of the Greater Omaha Business League, who were also in charge of an entertainment at the city auditorium in the evening.

FATHER AGNEW SPEAKS ON THE TERM "JESUIT"

At the weekly meeting of the Professional Mens' Club last Monday, an official explanation of the widely misunderstood and misused term Jesuit was given by Rev. William H. Agnew, S. J., president of the university.

After defining the term, Father Agnew gave a brief narrative of the origin and activities of the Society of Jesus, which is the proper name of the Jesuit order. The speaker was introduced by the Rev. J. Clayton, pastor of the Anglican Church of Omaha.

France, was the next stop, finally reaching Camp de Souge, near Bourdeaux, where they trained for six weeks.

It was then they were transferred to the St. Mihiel sector in time for the big drive in which 13,000 Germans were captured, and according to Father, that was the beginning of the end.

Immediately following the Armistice, Father Corboy was sent into Germany with the Army of Occupation and was in the Rhineland until the following June, when he returned to the U. S.

While in Germany, Father directed schools in seven different villages for the American doughboy illiterates. Of his experience in Germany, he said, "Instead of the Germans resenting the fact that we were billeted to their private homes, they went out of their way to make things pleasant for us. I never was better treated."

Only about 24% of the men in his outfit were Catholic but very little creed distinction was made, Father said.

Ordained a Jesuit priest in 1912, Father Corboy has had charge of athletics either at Marquette or Creighton university since 1904.

THANKSGIVING

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day, and a few minutes of thought reveal the comforting fact that it isn't such a bad old world after all. Stop for a little while and think it over; the petty annoying things are usually the ones that irritate their way into our attention, but underneath them, behind them, above them, are the big, solid, substantial facts of well-being and opportunity.

College days do bring their worries; that much must be granted. An education is an expensive thing in terms of money, and the great majority of all college students are hard put to stretch their limited incomes to meet the demands, ever increasing, of tuition, books, clothing, food and shelter during years that are necessarily unproductive of immediate financial return. Then there is the never-ending goad of lessons to be learned, exercises to be finished, experiments to be interpreted that can be made to assume the proportions of a mighty task if approached half-heartedly.

Nevertheless, serious as they may seem at the moment, all these things are petty and temporary beside the advantages we are gaining here. We shall some day graduate from Creighton University immeasurably better because of the years we have spent here, not because we have mastered French verbs or delved into hidden recesses of legal tomes, or searched out the mysteries of the human body, but because we have acquired a foundation upon which to build our lives and achieved standards after by which we may fashion our conduct. Our object has not been to become encyclopedias, but men and women in the fullest sense of the terms. That object we may reasonably hope to attain.

And in the meantime we have food and lodging, clothing and the companionship of congenial friends, and sufficient business to keep our minds well occupied. What more could a man wish?

NICE GOING, CARDINALS!

Omaha University has just celebrated its homecoming. And across some thirty blocks of intervening buildings, the congratulating hand of Creighton university and her students reaches with a sincere and hearty clasp.

Beginning not many years ago with a small student body, weathering the biting storms of criticism from without and, at times, turmoil from within, Omaha University consistently maintained her high scholastic standing, and slowly, surely forged her way into greater worth and prominence in every other field it entered. This year another milestone was reached when a fighting, red-shirted squad of about a score of men demonstrated their superiority over most football teams in their class.

For all of these things Creighton congratulates her sister university. And we, as Creighton men, hail the dawn of a still greater Omaha University, and announce that we are proud to have her with us in the field, to keep up the good fight, to make of our youth a finer and worthier group of citizens.

Once more, shake!

The Drake co-eds staged a parade during the half of the Drake-Ames game. While they were on the field they formed the letters Drake U. Thursday Drake will be here—band and all. According to the Council Bluffs corner of the club rooms our co-eds had better do something equally clever—or else.

Beanery Frosh Attempt Trek in Collegiate Ford

Some students will take chances! Two Commerce freshmen intend to start on a homeward journey of over 250 miles for the Thanksgiving holidays in one of Henry's two-for-a-quarter Fords.

Many have noticed this "Literary Ford" parked on the east side of the Beanery. Some have even stopped to read the wise cracks that spatter its venerable sides. This relic of by gone days is the property of Leo Reynolds and Robert Griffin, Beanery residents. They propose to herd the Ford all the way to Muscatine, Iowa, and back.

Those who have seen the car will appreciate their task. Their motto is, "Back to Creighton intact," but a more safe one would be, "Back to Creighton in a Taxi."

SPANISH CLUB HEARS HISTORY OF SPAIN

The Spanish Club of Creighton University held its second meeting of the year Wednesday evening in the High School library. The meeting opened with the reading of the minutes followed by a discussion of the club's business which consisted of the assessment of dues on the club picture.

A brief history of Spain was given in Spanish by Mark Gilinsky, Arts sophomore, which led to a discussion of that country in the Spanish language.

The meeting was concluded by the appointment of an entertainment committee for the next meeting two weeks hence.

About twenty second and third year students were present.

Shaughnessey One of Few Medical Actors

Whether constant association with the sick emotionally exhausts Creighton's potential M. D.'s, or whether the seriousness of the medical profession reveals too keenly life's superficialities, the fact remains that historic is an activity seldom engaged in by this university's young doctors.

Yet there is one big exception. He is Paul Shaughnessey, junior medic. Paul has played in "Copper Head," "Charley's Aunt," "Duley," "The Fortune Hunter," "Ice Bound," "The Family Unstairs," and so far this year, "Tommy."

But now comes his big part; for Paul was recently cast to play the part of Lightning Bill Jones in "Lightnin'" which will be given by the Creighton Players early in December. As a gapping, shrivelled old man, henpecked and pathetic, this role carries Paul away from anything he has before attempted.

Paul also has considerable versatility. As editor of the Shadows in 1926-27, he interviewed John Niehardt, Nebraska's poet laureate, and his short stories and features created a little campus interest. In the more technical fields he won the prize donated by Mrs. Herman von W. Shulte for the best sophomore thesis.

Paul now Shadows staff artist, doing the covers for that magazine.

MISS TENENBAUN RETURNS

Bringing Home the Bacon Heads or Tails? Compliments from the War Department Druggists in the White House

When the Bluejay squad entrained for Grinnell, many of its supporters expected it to bring home the bacon. Father Herbers, who accompanied the players, explained the close score by saying that no Catholic team can bring home the bacon when the game is played on Friday.

Nevertheless, many of the Grinnell Pioneers, who expected to have fish on that afternoon, ran into a lot of raw meat.

The national electorate of our country could well imitate the Creighton debating team. In the recent election of a captain, Victor Hrushka and Louis Lipp, the two leading contenders, tossed a coin to determine the winner. If that system were adopted in national affairs, the result might very often be far better than the outcome of the Australian ballot system. An inanimate coin could, at times, act more intelligently than the voting public.

Major General Charles P. Sumner, highest ranking officer in the U. S. army, inspected the Creighton R. O. T. C. unit Monday. That, to date, has been the second highest compliment paid the organization. The highest occurred last year when members of the regiment voted to adopt the new uniform, thus expressing their confidence that rookies such as appear on this campus, could really be made to resemble cadets.

Students in the college of pharmacy will now be exposed to a course in parliamentary procedure. That reminds us—we have not had a national president yet who practiced pharmacy exclusively. The new course might be significant of a general rise in ambition near the eastern borders of the Creighton

It is estimated that 500 Drake students will accompany their team to Creighton for the game tomorrow. Many Bluejay fans remember a similar journey undertaken Oct. 6, with its disastrous ending. Hopes are running high, that the Drake rooters will haul their Bulldog home in much the same condition as the Bluejay's feathers were on the other occasion.

Dr. Lewis C. Cassidy, Law professor, recently donated a set of books to two students. Many other professors in this university might profit by his example, and instead of reiterating the threat that "if you haven't got a book you can't pass this course", they might hold weekly drawings and donate texts to the winners. Some pioneering teacher can even carry the idea further and apply it to theses, essays, and assignments of all sorts.

Two freshmen will attempt a drive of 250 miles in a collegiate ford. That's why we call them freshmen.

Captain Reed has mustered his track mainstays for the opening skirmishes of the season. While not the youngest sport on the Creighton campus, track has heretofore received least attention. This year's squad,

Sailors Beg Master Mariner for Favorite Pipe Tobacco

Larus & Bro. Co. Malden, Mass. Richmond, Va. March 10, 1928

Dear Sirs: I have been a Master Mariner for many years, and as a general rule all seafaring men smoke a pipe. I have tried about all the different brands of tobacco on the market, and in my estimation, there is not one make of tobacco that will compare with Edgeworth Slice for a good, cool, long smoke. Sailors would come to me and say "Capt., be sure to put in a good supply of Edgeworth when you fill up the canteen." That speaks for what the average sailor thinks of Edgeworth.

I retired from the sea six years ago, and the largest grocery dealers in Boston keep me supplied with this wonderful smoke. I take great pleasure in boosting it to my friends.

Very truly yours, (signed) Capt. C. E. Kenney

Fraternity Row

By EUGENE J. MURPHY, President, Pan-Hellenic Council

Just to be different for once, we aren't going to comment on the apathy of most of our fraternity editors. It must seem peculiar to non fraternity men that we do not avail ourselves of the opportunity to at least advertise our Greek Letter organizations. If this were a column such as Vox Pop in the Liberty Magazine, we would find it necessary to hire trucks in order to take care of the incoming criticisms. Incidentally, men, you can leave contributions on the bulletin board, at the Creighton office.

The Kappa Pi Deltas just zoomed in with some news, for which the editor is duly thankful. The boys held an initiation at their house, 428 North 40th St., all day Sunday, Nov. 25th. The following men were initiated: Ed. J. Kudrna, Kenneth S. Clancy, Leslie Strawhecker, Geo. V. Gassman, George R. Billerbeck, Joe E. O'Toole, Tom J. McCarthy, and Ed. J. Hoarty. After the ceremonies, the new members partook of food, plenty of it, and smokes. The boys are planning on holding an alumni smoker in about two weeks, and a Christmas party before the holidays. They also are considering a change of homesteads. By the time a man gets to school from away out there, its time to go home again, due to the cruel fact that school closes along about four o'clock. Anyone knowing of a suitable habitat closer to school will kindly notify the editor, or the boys out there.

Once more we wish to remind you that photographs for the Bluejay should have been taken yesterday. The long suffering staff and the photographer cannot be expected to work forever. If you desire to use a print taken before, see that you get your half dollar to Matsuo's Studio. If your photograph fails to appear, don't become irate with anyone but yourself. Fraternity president, are especially urged to get their boys on deck.

Richard Garrity, graduate of the College of Pharmacy in 1926, was licensed in Chicago Thursday to marry Edna Leach, sweetheart of his college days, a Chicago dispatch announced.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

By GENE MARI VANA

Oh, I sure wish they'd catch that chopper!

The only thing ye editor is certain of is this all the Pharmacy boys are jealous of Eigler. For a consideration we'll tell you why.

Mr. Eigler, other things not withstanding, had an idea his ancestors were Spanish, and this idea not so long ago.

While driving along the Iowa roads, in a coupe of a popular make, he saw a cow coming down the lane.

The cow didn't like Mr. Eigler's car, or Mr. Eigler's looks, or Mr. Eigler didn't like the looks of the cow; at any rate, the cow came in contact with the car.

Moral? There isn't any.

All the boys who've been snubbing coeds will be sorry one of these days.

And here's the reason why.

Two new sororities on the campus.

There isn't a thing Mickey McGuire can't do. He can sing, dance, play football, and he can make Buddy Rogers or Barrymore, or some such, look positively sick, for the boy can act.

Besides these attributes, Mickey can pray. Yes sir!

Mickey leads the office at Chapel on Sunday morning.

The only inducement the profession of dentistry holds for us is the fact that the college has an elevator and a nice elevator man.

For less than a smile he, the elevator man, will take you up and down as long as you don't feel the affects.

Cy Farr has received his sheepskin. What's more he's wearing it. Just ask him to show it to you.

The Dope Bucket
By JAMES JAHN

Football is going to breathe its last gasp tomorrow afternoon as far as the home folks are concerned. Of course there's the Marquette game to follow, but as some one remarked, "It's a long, long way to Milwaukee, and the roads are mighty cold these chilly nights."

The Drake Bulldogs are only going to play the Bluejays, but they are coming loaded for "bear" as the feverish state of affairs on the Des Moines campus would indicate. Word comes that at least half of the student body will emigrate to Omaha, using practically every known means of locomotion, and even some hitherto unheard of. Then of course, there will be Don Durand, the "human bulldog", who will do his best to strike terror into the hearts of the Creightonians by his constant mutterings and growlings.

The important phase of the Turkey Day classic should not be overlooked, namely that it is for the championship of the Valley Conference, and as Chet Wynne will be trying to annex the gonfalon in the first year of competition, while Ossie Solem will do his best to end a highly successful campaign with a win, plenty of fireworks are forecast before dusk settles upon the concrete edifice. At any rate the boys certainly showed a different spirit in the Grinnell game than has been manifest in the first few losses, and if they can only make up on pass defense they will be more of an even match for the opposition than is expected.

More of the difficulty in stopping an aerial attack cropped up last Friday at Grinnell with the result that the Pioneers almost gave their supporters an excuse for celebrating. The Iowans seared the atmosphere with flying leather exactly 22 times and 14 of these flips finally came to rest in the hands of their own players. This however proved to be the main threat of the defeated crew and the common opinion of all that saw the fray was that Creighton had the better eleven.

Plenty of credit is due the linemen that Coaches Wynne and McMullan have so ably manufactured. Time and again these gentlemen have been objects of praise by the sports-writers, but in opening up holes for Scott, Rombough, Hunt, and Bertoglio, last week, they did what Marquette was not able to do, what Ames or Washington could not accomplish; they played the Pioneers off their feet. Testimony for this is found in the statistics which give Creighton a total of some 190 yards from scrimmage while the Pioneers could dent the Blue forwards for but a scant 45 yards.

Merle Hunt played his usual good game, slashing off some substantial gains, scoring two of the touchdowns and adding two of the tries-for-point. Scott, Rombough, Brown, and Bertoglio were there in more ways than one, contributing much of the punch to the play. Tesar, Lucas, Dunn, and Caniglia merited plenty of praise, the bareheaded guard again captivating the fancies of the co-eds.

Intramural sports are now entering into the limelight. With the news that several of the Law frats are to engage in a grid embroglio and the inter-college basketballers are to swing into action, students will have something to keep them occupied during the coming weeks. The basketball leagues claim the greater share of attention, and much enthusiasm is annually worked up over the games. More than two-hundred take an active part on the hardwood court and several times that number derive some enjoyment in watching the tussles from the bleachers.

The Senior Arts and the Senior Dents had a monopoly on top place in the two leagues for the past two years, and as both of these teams have graduated their members there is much conjecture as to who will be their successors. There might be this year's edition of the Arts Seniors or there might be the Dental Seniors, who as last years Juniors were the runners-up.

By the way, the sports department was the object of much criticism over in the Law school the other day. It seems that the Gamma Eta Gammas are to play two of the Delt fraternities in a renewal of football relations and an article to this effect was carried in the sports columns. The main trouble with the article, however, was that in the lineup announced for the Gammas there was only one Gamma and the rest were Delts.

History is philosophy teaching by example. —Dionysius.

PIONEERS FALL BY 20-19 COUNT

JAYS TAKE SECOND VALLEY VICTORY IN THRILLING CONTEST

Iowan's Aerial Play Almost Clinches Game; Creighton Tied for Title

LEAD SEE-SAWS

Chief Mailliard and his warriors sallied forth to do battle with the Grinnell Pioneers last Friday and marched back to the tune of a 20 to 19 victory. The battle scene was certainly no place for one with a weak heart as the game was resplendent with thrills.

The Jays started the game with a bang and early in the first quarter found themselves in possession of the ball on the Iowans' yard line. On the following play Hunt fumbled and a Pioneer recovered. Nevertheless the Jays were not to be denied for they soon had the pellet back on the 4 yard line. Hunt then crashed over and to add insult onto injury successfully drop-kicked the extra point.

Creighton's second touchdown came near the beginning of the second period by passing and rushing the ball down to the 10 yard line from which point Bertoglio scored by circling around left end. Hunt again made good his drop kick, and the scoreboard read 14 to 0.

Pioneers Score on Pass
The Pioneers' first tally came about 5 minutes later when Ruff passed to Rose, who scampered across the goal line. Ruff placed kicked for the extra point.

The half ended 14 to 7 but that was "only the half of it," for it was not long before the Iowans again scored as the result of a fumbled punt. The try for point was unsuccessful and left Creighton with a one point lead.

In the latter part of the third quarter the Pioneers again resorted to an air attack and gained 56 yards on a pass by Rose to Minier, who was downed on the 4 yard line. In 4 rushes "Big Ben" Douglas pushed the ball past the zero mark. Ruff's kick was blocked but Grinnell was ahead by a 19 to 14 score.

Dunn Recovers Fumble
Lew Brown, who was now acting as pilot, punted the elongated pellet overboard on the Pioneers 23 yard stripe. Gunner Rose fumbled on the next play, whereupon Ed Dunn recovered on the 20 yard line.

The Bluejays now started a drive that did not end till the goal posts were in back of them.

Rombough crashed center for 5; Bertoglio added another 5 through guard. Rombough replied with 3 yards and Bertoglio again duplicated him. Hunt then rocketed through right tackle for the last counter of the game. Hunt's placekick was wide but Creighton was on top by a one point lead which was sufficient to give the game to the Jay.

Both teams were playing for all they were worth and only by the Blue's renewed vigor in the 4th quarter were they able to cop the tussle.

This victory places Creighton one step closer to the coveted Missouri Valley championship and leaves Creighton's Valley record untarnished.

CAGE SQUAD HOLDS EARLY SCRIMMAGES

Informal Drills Become More Intensive as Time for Official Call Nears

By JAMES JAHN

With the opening of the basketball season near at hand, Coach Art Schabinger is holding informal drills each night with the handful of candidates that report, as the official call will not be sounded until the end of the football season.

Monday night Schabie had the men shooting baskets and practicing free-throwing, following these fundamentals with ten minutes of scrimmage. At the end of the scrimmage, the varsity, or "A" combination had scored six field goals and one free throw, while the "B" team was held scoreless.

On the first team, Captain Fritz Kampf and Louis Pohl were holding down the forwards, while opposing them were Les Stravnecker and Harry Binder on the other quintet. Bud Jensen was consistently taking the tip-off at center, from Lew Watke and played a whale of a floor game. Jim Sheridan, Bart Corcoran and Harry Trautman held down the guards, Sheridan coming in for Trautman and all three of these put up a strong brand of barricading, hurrying the reserves on their shots and at no time letting one of them loose for close shot at the hoop. Leo Grady did the barricading for the "B" team.

Fritz Kampf displayed his old time form connecting for three field goals, with Pohl, his running mate, was an important cog in the offense. Pohl's shots were a little too hurried and fell short, but the lanky lad is expected to round into form as the season goes along.

Corcoran was a close second to the pilot in the matter of points, ringing up two field goals and tossing in a free throw. Jensen scored the remaining marker, lobbing in a close one from under the meshes.

HICKEY'S PREPSTERS HUMBLE FREMONT

By Ralph H. Gross

The Creighton Prep football team under the able guidance of Coach Eddie Hickey severely trimmed the Fremont Tigers last Friday by the score of 18 to 2 in an excellently played game.

The game opened with the Blues seemingly in a daze. Early in the first period, due to mistaken signals, Marfisi fumbled behind his goal line and recovered to give the Fremont boys a safety. From then on the Omahans snapped out of it and played a heads-up game.

Creighton's first opportunity came in the second quarter when Mokry recovered a Bluejay punt which had touched a Tiger on his 15 yard line. Surber trotted to the 2 yard line from which point Marfisi went over or an end run. An attempted pass, Surber to Smith, for the extra point failed.

The Third Quarter saw the Black and Gold line fast weakening under the powerful sledge-hammer drives of the Prep back-field.

In the fourth Quarter the Midget Bluejays suddenly shifted their mode of attack to the air and caught their opponents flat-footed. Two touchdowns were made in short order as a result of the baffling passes which Coach Hickey had so excellently drilled them on.

The first counter was due to 3 passes which took the ball from midfield to the 7 yard line. "Red" Surber then galloped around the end and crossed the zero mark. Marfisi's drop kick was blocked.

The third and last marker came after Dugan had batted a Fremont pass into the waiting arms of his teammate Murray. Marfisi's pass to Smith netted 22 yards and Surber's sprint of 24 yards put the ball on the 7 yard line. A pass, Cortez to Marfisi, gave the Prepsters the remaining distance and the drop kick was again blocked.

The whole team displayed a great deal of alertness in taking advantage of any breaks. Tony Marfisi and "Red" Surber were the "big shots" in the Junior Jay attack.

Bluejays to Battle With Drake Bulldogs Tomorrow for Missouri Valley Title

TOUGH CONTEST IS PREDICTION; DOPE FAVORS THE IOWANS

Des Moines Has Beaten Long List of Good Teams, Losing Only to Notre Dame

TIED FOR VALLEY LEAD

By AL RUSSELL

There's going to be a battle royal on the scarred sod of Creighton Stadium tomorrow afternoon. Aided and abetted by 500 rooters and a 50-piece band, the Drake University Bulldog intend to fight to the death as a bulldog should to maintain a conference record without a defeat and to take home the bunting representing the 1928 Missouri Valley conference football championship to adorn the kennel. To attain that end they must drag to earth a Bluejay—a sadly torn and soiled bird, with more than a few tail feathers missing—but a Bluejay with a fighting heart and the will to win.

Dope Favors Iowans

On paper the dope would seem to incline decidedly in favor of the Des Moines team. It was nip and tuck at Grinnell last Friday when Lady Luck and an inspired play combined to give Creighton a close 20-19 victory over a fighting Pioneer team, which had eliminated the Washington Bears from the conference race by a 7-6 score the week previous. Drake bested Grinnell easily near the beginning of the season by a score of 19-7, and proved that victory no fluke in disposing of Washington 20-0. Decisions over Simpson, Marquette, Iowa State, and Missouri attest the Bulldogs' strength. Notre Dame being the only eleven to turn the tables on them during the entire season.

On the other hand Creighton fans point out the fact that the 1928 football season has been one continual procession of upsets, and predict that the steady improvement shown by the Bluejay eleven from the Utah game on will reach its peak tomorrow.

Few Reserves In Line

For the invaders Delmege and Wensel are regular starters at the end positions and are favored to play the entire game, as reserve material for the wings is scarce in the Bulldog camp. Shearer and Captain Holliday at tackles are also without first-rank understudies, Holliday being the most capable defensive player in Coach Solem's lineup. Jones and Graustra at guards and Don Carlos at center, all steady players, round out the forward wall. King, Barnes, Nesbitt, and Gordon are all good ball-luggers, approaching the sensational at times. Barnes is the punter of the outfit and is said to be deadly accurate at booting goals from placement. Seiberling alternates with Gordon at the full-back position.

At the Theaters

RIALTO—Warner Bros. Vitaphone production, "Caught in the Fog." The picture is a hurricane of fun, symphonic score, and talking sequences with Conrad Nagel and May McAvoy. Also Will Rogers in a Vitaphone specialty "Hunting Germans in Berlin."

Starting Saturday, "Moran of the Marines".

ORPHEUM—Another smashing double headline bill consisting of Ann Codee, noted French comedienne, and Crockett's Kentucky Mountaineers, vaudeville's latest sensation. On the screen, Annapolis, the great American picture with Jeanette Loff, John Mack Brown, and Hugh Allen.

BRANDEIS—A presentation especially for the anniversary week, "The Woman of Bronze." This is a truly remarkable drama with Ruth King and Boyd Irwin at their best in the most forceful and emotional play of the season.

RIVIERA—The big show of the year with Jay Mills, "The Life of the Party", in the mammoth Public anniversary show. You'll be delighted to see it with 45 people, eight acts, and four scenes. On the screen "The Show Girl".

500 Drake Students to Accompany Bulldogs Here

At least 500 Drake University students are expected to trek to Omaha to see the Creighton-Drake game on Thanksgiving Day. Two special trains, in addition to several busses and various automobile parties, will carry howling Bulldog rooters and a 50-piece band. "The Bulldog mascot," as impersonated by Don Durand, a student, will also come along to keep the fans in a hilarious frame of mind. Special rates of $5.40 for the round trip from Des Moines are being offered the rooters by the Rock Island railroad and two trainloads will carry the crowd. One of these will arrive in Omaha at 11 o'clock Wednesday night while the other will steam in shortly after noon.

THREE HICKEY STARS NAMED ON ALL-CITY

Three Creighton Prep gridsters received the honor of being placed on the All City High School first team aggregation. This year's team also includes the Council Bluffs schools. Tony Marfisi was placed at half, Smith at end, and Ford at guard.

The next meeting of the society will be held on Monday, Dec. 10. The program at that meeting will be a debate on some phase of the jury system by four of the ablest speakers in the society. There will also be an extemporaneous debate. Every Creightonite is invited to the meeting.

PHARMACISTS STUDY PARLIAMENTARY LAW

Beginning with the present session, every senior in the college of Pharmacy will be required to take a course in parliamentary procedure. This course is something quite new in the Pharmacy curricula. Pharmacy faculty believe that it should prove of great value to the graduate and as an interesting study for students who will find it practicable in class meetings, clubs and fraternity meetings.

INDIAN MISSIONARIES ARE CREIGHTON GUESTS

Two veteran missionaries among the Indian tribes, the Sioux of South Dakota and the Arapahoes of Wyoming, were guests of Creighton university last week. They were the Rev. Robert Keel, S. J., superior of the mission of St. Stephen in Wyoming, and Brother Hartman of the St. Francis Mission of South Dakota. Brother Hartman, who is a carpenter and builder, has recently completed the construction of the buildings of St. Stephen's Mission to replace those destroyed by fire last spring. His aides were Indian carpenters whom he had trained for the work.

ATTENDANCE IS GOOD AT SODALITY MASS

The attendance at the Sodality Masses on Sunday mornings has increased steadily. Faculty members state themselves as very well pleased and express hopes that it will continue.

Fr. Herbers says, "Let us hope that this will continue. It is a wonderful thing to see so many young men gathered together to worship God and to honor His Blessed Mother."

FROSH GRID TEAM TRIM FORT OMAHA

Coach Joe Beha's Frosh gridsters trimmed the Fort Omaha army boys, 19 to 0, Saturday at the army field. Using Rockne strategy, Beha started his shock troops who responded by gaily romping over the soldiers in the first five minutes of play for a touchdown, McConeille totting the pigskin over for the marker. On sending his regulars in against the Fort-men, the yearling Jays were stopped much to their surprise for the better part of a quarter period. The Army finally succumbed to the Hill-top thrusts through the line and Maguire managed to score in the third and last period. Allison kicked the placeboot for the extra point on the last touchdown.

The work of Carey on the defensive and Murray and Maguire were the outstanding features of the Bluejay play. Dorwart also exhibited capable work at kicking. For the Army, Roush and Garrett shined with their aggressiveness.

NUCLEUS OF 1929 TRACK SQUAD ON THE BOARDS

Five o'clock every evening finds several Creighton track aspirants pounding the boards in an effort to get into shape before the spring call is sounded. Captain Byron Reed, Tom Barron, George Hanley, and Ray Turner have been turning out consistently and are rapidly rounding into form.

Reed is working on the half-mile and intends to be the fourth member of the two mile relay quartet, as Gilley, Binder, and Hollenbeck, all veterans, will be back. Tom Barron is working on the short dashes with George Hanley. Barron won the century at the conference meet last spring, while Hanley failed to make the trip as he was slow in recovering from a sinus operation.

Routine tasks occupied the attention of the track quartet last week with the exception of a 600 yard race between Tom Hollenbeck and Captain Reed, which was won by Hollenbeck by a good margin. Joe Chiung was referee of the special event.

"The sun never sets on Chesterfield's popularity!"

"Globe trotters", we can imagine Dr. Freud as saying, "are people whose nurses dropped them onto an escalator in early childhood. They buy a sun helmet, a guide book, and a first-class passage to the Pyramids, and are never heard from again."

Nevertheless, the most confirmed voyageur owns to a thrill at finding a carton of Chesterfields in a tiny cafe on the Left Bank, or a package of the same on a card table at the Army Club at Simla, or on meeting an Arab camel-boy whose only English is "Sooch popular mos' be desarse!"

For Chesterfield's popularity never saw a sunset; travel as far as you will, this cigarette will always be somewhere ahead, ready to bring good taste and good tobacco home to you.

Such popularity must be deserved—and it IS!
