Dear Brick

On the morning of Nov. 17th

I am aftering my Mass for you, my closest friend, in appresiation & thanks for all you have meant to me & done for me. May the good Lord add His own blessing & thanks to my own! In this way only can I make reparation to you. Sixty - nine years is a long pilgrimage for anyone. May it stretch out indefinately, with life becoming ever fuller & more enjoyable as you approach the grand Chimax! -

It is a consoling thought to know that a Roman Catholic will at last move into the White House Am glad we both lived to see the day, It was an interesting & close race & I hope the best man has won. Don't forget Brick to buy that rocking chair & to put it to good use. One of our father's here was found dead in his bed yesterday, only 45 yrs. old., which shows how uncertain the future can be. Here today, gone tomorrow?

Ever yours

John
