

LANG ELECTED TO FILL CASH'S TERM ON UNION BOARD

Minnesotan Wins Over George Koehn by Plurality of Eight Votes.

WAS FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Elmer Lang, law senior of Minneapolis, Minn., won the right to represent the school of Law on the Students Union Board of Governors with a plurality of eight votes over George Koehn, Elkton, S. D., in the special election held in that school Friday, Feb. 3. Lang will serve the balance of the unexpired term of Paul Cash, who recently resigned from the school. About three months of this term remains.

Lang polled 53 votes, Koehn 48, and Warren Cook of Omaha 10. Lang came to Creighton from East High School, Minneapolis. Unheralded as a football star, he developed into one of Creighton's greatest ends, making the mythical All-Conference team all three years, and being chosen captain of that aggregation as well as the Bluejay varsity his last season.

Last season he acted as coach of the freshman football squad, and was successful in turning out a scrappy, well-trained team.

Far from confining his athletic activities to football, Lang is one of the most versatile athletes in school, having held the University bowling championship and the Omaha City skating championship.

He is a member of the Gamma Eta Gamma legal fraternity.

DEBATE SEASON TO OPEN FEBRUARY 17

Creighton will meet William Jewell College of Liberty, Mo., at Omaha, Feb. 17, on the question "Resolved: That the United States should cease to protect by armed force capital invested in foreign lands, except after a formal declaration of war," for the first regular debate of the year.

The men representing Creighton, all sophomores of the Arts college, are Elmer Ogren, Ephraim Marks, and James Fitzgerald. The judges have not as yet been selected.

The next two debates will be held Feb. 20 and Feb. 23 against the University of Missouri and the Kansas State Agricultural College respectively. The Missouri debate will be on the question "Resolved: That this house deprecates the tendency of the federal government to interfere with individual affairs."

Creighton will uphold the negative side of the question. The men representing Creighton will be George Havel, Montgomery, Minn., Law Freshman; Gerald Vasak, Omaha, Law Freshman; and George Peter Skow, Omaha, Arts Junior.

The team for the northern and southern trips will be picked during the coming week.

FR. DOYLE OUTLINES NEW ENGLISH COURSE

Rev. Cletus V. Doyle, S. J., addressed a meeting of the Shadows staff of the university, held Monday, Jan. 31, in the Publicity office of the university, outlining plans for a new English course to embrace practical magazine management, to be open to all students of the university. One hour credit is offered for this course.

Twelve members of the staff of Shadows were present. Methods of improving the school quarterly were discussed.

PIONEER INSTRUCTOR DIES

The Rev. Francis Vallazza, S. J., pioneer Creighton instructor, died in Cleveland, O., Feb. 1. Fr. Vallazza was among the first Jesuit professors who came to the Hilltop. He arrived Nov. 22, 1881, three years after the foundation of the school.

NO SALE

During his recent visit to Creighton, Line Coach J. McMullan visited the offices of Frs. Grace and Herbers. John was buying spuds, but he failed to purchase any in the afore-mentioned offices.

NEED TENORS

Can you sing first tenor? If so, report to the band room on the fourth floor of the Arts building at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Due to illness and failures, there are several vacancies in the Glee Club, according to J. P. O'Brien, president.

DEADLINE EXTENDED IN SHADOWS CONTEST

In view of the interest evidenced in the Short Story and Poetry Contest being held by Shadows, University quarterly, the deadline on contributions has been extended to Feb. 20.

New entries are being received each day and present indications point to a great increase over the number submitted during last year's contest. Keene Abbott will judge the short stories and John Neihardt the verse. Cash prizes of $20 and $10 will be given for each division.

PROF. C. C. CHARVAT DISCUSSES DRAMA

Traces Development From Ninth Century to Present Day in Beaux Arts Lecture

"The theme of the American drama is optimism, and the most frequent and popular presentations are those depicting the square deal, and the triumph of virtue," declared Professor Charles C. Charvat in the second of a series of lectures under the auspices of the Extension Lecture Department of the Beaux Arts Club of Creighton University.

The lecture, dealing with "The Evolution of the English Drama," was given at 8:30 p. m. Monday, Feb. 6, in the north club room of the university gymnasium. Despite the extreme inclemency of the weather, the attendance was large, with students predominating.

The English drama proper, according to Professor Charvat, owes its origin directly to the Roman Catholic Mass, and may be traced back as early as the ninth century. The early tableaux and pageants were presented by the clergy, and were followed by the mystery plays, the miracle plays, the guild plays, pageants, and finally morality plays.

Following this Medieval Period there was a transitional period, which was in turn succeeded by the Elizabethan Era, in which Shakespeare flourished. "Shakespeare was a very human person, with no formal education, but with genius and determination," declared Professor Charvat.

Then came a decline in the drama, which was followed by the Restoration Period, in which women first appeared on the stage, about the middle of the seventeenth century. Finally came the period of the modern drama, which, according to the professor, is not faring so well. Much of the characterization now centers about women, who, according to Hugo, "feel first, then act, and then think."

Mr. Charvat further stated that acting as a profession is becoming more and more honorable, and the time is fast approaching when the director will be paramount in importance.

Preceding the lecture, Francis Joseph Burkley gave four piano solos.

FORMER RETREAT MASTER VISITS C. U.

The Rev. William F. Robinson, S. J., one of the Jesuit missionaries, is visiting at Creighton this week. He has just finished a two weeks' Mission in Des Moines, Ia.

Fr. Robinson conducted retreats for the priests of the Omaha and Lincoln dioceses at Creighton last year. He gave the retreat for Creighton students two years ago.

CREIGHTON MEN AT PLATTSMOUTH MEET

Registrar B. A. Kennedy, Prof. Marron of the high school faculty, Mr. E. H. Patterson of the Commerce school, and Fr. Herbers drove to Plattsmouth, Neb., Tuesday evening, where they attended a meeting of the Council of the Knights of Columbus of that city.

The purpose of the meeting was to arouse renewed interest in the membership drive.

The members were addressed by Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Patterson and Fr. Herbers.

A PROMISE

Charles C. Charvat, professor of English at the Commerce college, is noted for his fierce energy. When he told his freshman class that he was going to work them so hard during the third quarter that they would lose ten pounds apiece, one of the precious co-eds sweetly asked, "Is that a promise, professor?"

"The Detour," By Owen Davis, a Study in Realism, To Be Given By Dramatic Club Feb. 14, in K. C. Hall

"A study in realism" is what New York critics call Owen Davis' "The Detour," a three-act drama to be presented by the Creighton dramatic club next Tuesday evening, February 14, at the Knights of Columbus auditorium. There will be one performance only, at 8:30.

A particularly fine cast has been selected for the play, according to Fred Morrow, director, including several new "finds" as well as experienced actors. The dramatic leads will be carried by James Cash, arts senior, and Grace Aldrich Ringer, commerce junior. Cash has appeared in many Creighton theatricals during his four years here, and has also done some professional stage work. Last winter he had the lead in "Icebound," the Pulitzer prize-winning play by the same author as "The Detour." He has been cast as Steve Hardy, the land-mad New England farmer who understands nothing that can't be measured by the acre.

Helen Hardy, Steve's wife, will be portrayed by Grace Aldrich Ringer, who is new to Creighton dramatic circles. Helen is a woman with a great hunger for life who yearns for her own stunted self-expression through the life of her daughter Kate, and who hoards every penny toward sending the girl to art school in New York. Lone Brown, prominent in Council Bluffs theatricals, has the juvenile lead as Kate, the farm girl of the city, and yet she finds it hard to leave her steady, faithful, plodding sweetheart, Tom Lane. Bill Dozier, arts junior who is remembered for his work in "The Rear Car," will play Tom Lane.

The role of Dana Lamont, a famous New York artist spending his summer vacation in Northport, has been assigned to William McCarthy, law senior and production manager of the dramatic club. Jean McGrath, Duchesne graduate, is to be Dora Lamont, a cultured and charming woman of the world. Pat Heaton, law junior, will be Ben Glenn, the hard-headed old tax collector who trusts no man. Weinstein, a furniture dealer, and his little boy Jake will be played by Heymen Shrier and Ton Quinlan, both arts juniors.

Student activities cards will admit; general admission seats for 50c and reserved seats for 75c can be purchased from any member of the dramatic club or at the box office.

All students who have tickets must turn in their money or tickets without fail by Friday, Feb. 10, to William Dozier, James Cash, or Clifford Ryberg.

NURSES MAY WORK FOR B. S. DEGREE

Five-Year Course Is Offered as Result of Merger of Training School With University.

Students in the Nurses' Training School of St. Joseph's Creighton Memorial hospital may apply credits for work in that school toward a five-year course leading to a degree of bachelor of science conferred by Creighton University, according to the Rev. W. J. Grace, S. J., president of the University, who announced last week a merger of the two institutions.

St. Joseph's hospital is to retain its separate corporate identity, and students finishing the three-year course will be granted the diploma of a graduate nurse as before.

Rev. Bernard L. Sellmeyer, S. J., professor of biology at Creighton, was made regent of the new school and chairman of its administrative board, which is to be composed of Dr. H. von W. Schulte, dean of the school of medicine, Dr. Bryan M. Riley, Dr. George F. Simanek, Sister M. Leonissa, director general of the nursing schools conducted by the Franciscan sisters, who are in charge of St. Joseph's, Sister M. Lavina, superintendent of nurses, and Miss Mary O'Neill, assistant director of nurses. Sister Lavina will act as director of the school.

The school of Nursing is the twelfth unit in the University's organization. A nurses' home costing $300,000 was erected in 1923, and $500,000 is at present being spent in bringing the capacity of St. Joseph's hospital up to 500 beds. The hospital cared for 6,646 patients in 1927, 2,021 being charity cases.

UNIVERSITY OFFERS TALKS THROUGH WOW

Creighton University will conduct a radio educational series over station W. O. W. at 5:45 p. m. every Saturday. Various professors of the university will discuss subjects incidental to their respective courses.

The first lecture will be on Feb. 11, and will be given by Professor Charles C. Charvat on "The Drama."

Dr. P. Raymond Nielsen of the history department will speak on "Recent Lives of Washington," in which he will discuss especially those written by W. E. Woodward and Rupert Hughes.

The series is sponsored and conducted by the university publicity department.

STUDENT WRITES.

Harold Crawford, Commerce freshman, received a letter recently from Robert Hunt, who is now studying at Blackrock College, Dublin, Ireland. Hunt reports that the foreign system of education is vastly different from that of America, but states that he likes the life very much, and is particularly attracted by the type of students in Irish schools.

SCHULTE TO CHICAGO

Dr. H. von Schulte, dean of the school of medicine, has left for Chicago to attend the meeting of the Council of Medical Education of the American Medical association.

MISSIONS ENRICHED

The Home and Foreign missions have been enriched to the extent of $75 by a check from the Creighton University. This makes a total of $341 from the University and high school this year.

Rev. Flanagan Gives Talk for Founders Day

"The gathering here to day is an expression of the gratitude and appreciation we have for John and Edward Creighton," said the Rev. Flanagan, pastor of Holy Angels church, at the Founders Day services, held in Saint John's church, Tuesday morning, Feb. 7.

"Higher education is to give the true philosophy of life. Without it man would be a human beast and incapable of even obedience to instinct. The educated layman is the church's greatest asset today," added the speaker.

FR. EGAN DECRIES MODERNISTIC TREND

Says Impossible to Get the Facts Necessary for Scientific Study of Eugenics

Speaking on modern fancies of thought last Sunday in St. John's church, the Rev. Thomas Egan, professor of sociology, decried "the hazardousness of much opinionated science" as applied to the life of society.

"I may cite as an example the wail of the advanced eugenicist," declared Father Egan. "But a generation or so ago what goes by the name of eugenics was so little known that it received but a quarter column in the Encyclopedia Britannica. Now, it takes many generations for scientific investigation into human developments. Yet who can count the volumes on eugenics in existence today, all speaking with the finality of Mohammed?"

"It is impossible with present-day equipment to get the facts necessary for a scientific science of eugenics. We can not carry human beings to our laboratories, reproduce them as we do generations of mice, and submit them to the continual scrutiny of the microscope and test tube. Our facts are too often partial. Of the low classes, such as the Jukes and Kallikaks, we get a surfeit of the evil that lives after them, picked up from sources that in a court of justice would be rejected as hearsay, and yet to a eugenicist often are confirmations strong as proofs from Holy Writ."

ED MURPHY REGRETS FORMER STATEMENT

Ed Murphy is beginning to regret his statement to "make the club rooms your night club." Several men about town took him at his word and tried to create the sophisticated night club air.

They played tag and in consequence of their effort broke a divan and a chair. Murphy now greets all his "patrons" with penetrating glances and is considering furnishing the club rooms with milking stools or some such articles.

ALUMNI SEND STUDENT

"How did I happen to come to Creighton this semester?" said Bernadette O'Malley, Commerce freshman. "My father, John O'Malley, attended Arts college in 1898, and my uncle, Charles E. O'Malley, graduated from the same school in 1909. They are both loyal alumni, and naturally they wanted me to come to Creighton." Miss O'Malley's home is in Denver; she is staying here with her grandmother.

MISS DEE TO ENTER CONVENT FEB. 14

Will Receive Postulate's Garb at Mount Carmel, Dubuque, Iowa, Institution.

Again the convent of the Sisters of Charity, B. V. M., calls to its enclosure a Creighton University employee and special student, for on Feb. 14, Helen Dee, assistant in the office of the Registrar and student of accounting in the College of Commerce, will receive the postulate's garb at Mount Carmel, Dubuque, Ia. Following the course of a former co-worker, Elizabeth Beveridge, who entered that convent a year and a half ago, the news of Helen's plans came as a distinct surprise to many who knew her.

Helen's decision takes from our midst a member of the Royal Court of Creighton, having served as princess during the past year under the reign of Queen Beulah Edwards.

A brilliant student, winning a scholarship in St. John's graduating class of 1925, Helen also placed herself on the honor roll at St. Mary's college, Omaha, while pursuing the two-year teachers' course, to which her scholarship entitled her.

Coupled with her college work, Helen worked part time in the Registrar's office, where she had charge of the recording and filing of students' credits. This year, while working full time in that office, she also managed to carry accounting in the College of Commerce.

Said Registrar Bernard A. Kennedy: "With Miss Dee's resignation, Creighton is losing a valuable employee and the Registrar's office an efficient and co-operative worker. She was especially proficient in her work which involved much detail and accuracy."

Benita Roach, another Omaha girl and a friend of Helen's, is now serving her novitiate at Mount Carmel.

NEBRASKA SECTION OF A. C. S. TO MEET

The Nebraska Section of the American College of Surgeons will hold its annual meeting at the Fontenelle hotel, February 7 and 8. This section is composed of surgeons from all parts of Nebraska. Creighton graduates and members of the Medical Faculty will take an active part in both preparations and lectures. Dr. F. J. Langdon is in charge of the Arrangements committee.

A banquet will be held in the Palm Room of the Fontenelle Hotel on the evening of the first day. Following this banquet B. R. McGrath, Grand Island, Nebraska, President of the Nebraska State Medical Society, will give an address on Medical Evolution.

FR. DRISCOLL ILL

The Rev. J. J. Driscoll, S. J., superintendent of grounds at Creighton University, is confined at St. Joseph's hospital with bronchial flu.

NEW COEDS

Three new coeds have registered at Creighton. They are: Pauline Koppel, a Central high graduate; Collette O'Brien, Duchesne girl, and Bernadette O'Malley, who comes here from Denver.

NEW CHEMISTRY COURSE

A course in quantitative analysis will be given at 3 P. M. Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday if enough students are interested. Those wishing to take such a course are asked to see the Rev. John A. Krance, S. J.

FATHER KAUFFMAN TO ADDRESS NEW SODALITY

Rev. Alfred Kauffman, S. J., will address the Faculty Sodality at its next regular social meeting on Thursday, Feb. 9, on "The Borgias in Church History." Meetings are held in the library of the Arts college.

The business session will begin at 8 p. m. and will be followed by an informal discussion of Catholic activities. After Father Kauffman's lecture another discussion will take place.

The monthly recitation of the Office of the Blessed Virgin was held in the chapel of the Arts college at noon, Feb. 3.

UNION WILL STAGE NOVEL EXCURSION

Midwinter Dance, in Gymnasium Feb. 20, to Simulate Down-River Steamboat Trip

Merrymakers who attend the midwinter excursion, to be given in the gymnasium Feb. 20, will be literally thrown off the dock. The Student Union managers have planned a real down-south river excursion. The gymnasium will be decorated to represent the main deck of a river steamer down to the smallest detail.

Ed Murphy, manager of the club, sent a personal representative to Kansas City to secure an orchestra. The Pitch's Memphis Pipers, a twelve-piece aggregation, has been engaged. Reports from the south say that they are unusually "hot."

Whether the Missouri river is navigable or not will matter little to the good ship that Murphy and his associates are about to launch. Decks piled with cotton, squawkers, and red lemons will make a scene dear to the heart of anyone who has witnessed a river excursion.

At 11:30 bales of artificial cotton will be opened and a "cotton battle" staged.

The tickets of admission will resemble first class passage tickets of a river packet. Numbers will be stamped on them and later about 12 rather expensive prizes will be drawn. Several Spanish shawls will be given away.

CLASSIC CLUB ADOPTS A NEW CONSTITUTION

After heated discussion on several of the provisions, the final draft of the constitution of the new Creighton Classical Club was accepted at the meeting held Thursday, Feb. 2. "We will now be in a position to hold regular bi-monthly meetings and have regular programs," stated Prof. John J. Wellmuth, S. J., faculty moderator of the organization.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 16 in the North club rooms of the gymnasium.

HOLD TWO MASSES IN SUNDAY CHAPEL

Beginning Sunday, Feb. 12, there will be two masses in the Students' chapel each Sunday morning. The first mass will be celebrated at 8:15, and the second at 9:15.

The Arts and Commerce sodality will meet at the first mass and the four professional departments at the second.

Fr. Herbers and Fr. Moore will officiate at the masses. Confessions will be heard before each.

BLUEJAY DEBATERS MEET OMAHA UNI

Friday night, Feb. 3, a dual no-decision debate was held in the Law college between Creighton University and the University of Omaha on the question "Resolved: That the United States should cease to protest by armed force Capital invested in foreign lands except after formal declaration of War."

Creighton speakers on the affirmative side of the question were George Havel, Martin McCarthy, and Elmer Ogren. Negative speakers for Creighton were Clifford Ryberg, Frank Headley, and Joseph Bear.

ORIGINAL RESEARCH PRESENTED

At a recent Douglas County Medical meeting, a paper was presented on an original research on Ciliated Epithelium made by Dr. James F. McDonald, Professor of Physiology in the college of medicine, and two senior medics, Ernest Lennemann and Clyde Leisure.

FIRST C. U. FORMAL MILITARY BALL TO BE HELD FEB. 13

Initial Honorary Cadet Colonel To Be Chosen From Duchesne, Co-Eds, And Nurses' School

The first strictly formal Military Ball ever held at Creighton University will be given in the Granada ballroom of the K. C. Auditorium Monday evening, Feb. 13. At this time the first honorary colonel of the Reserve Officers Training Corps of Creighton University will be formally presented to the unit. She is being chosen by the Reserve Officers Club from the co-eds on the Hill, those at Duchesne, and those at the nurses' school. Her identity will be kept secret until the night of the ball, when she will appear in full regulation dress uniform of blue and white, the Creighton University colors.

The decorations carried out in the ballroom will be absolutely military, in keeping with the formality. Rifles will be stacked and machine and 37 millimeter guns will be placed about the floor.

The Alumni of the Reserve Officers Club will be admitted at the Military Ball, Feb. 13, at the Granada ballroom of the K. C. Auditorium, providing that they register at the R. O. T. C. office of Creighton University before Feb. 10.

In the receiving line will be Lieutenant and Mrs. William S. Murray, Colonel and Mrs. Dockery, Captain H. Wagner, regimental adjutant, and Colonel Paul Halpine.

The guests of honor will include the Rev. W. J. Grace, S. J., president of Creighton University; Major General Harry A. Smith, commander of Seventh Corps Area; Colonel Amos Thomas, commander of National Guards; Colonel J. B. Foster, commander of Fort Crook Army Post; deans of the various departments of the University, and staff officers of the local high schools. Invitations have been sent to 25 companies of the National Society of the Scabbard and Blade.

After the guests have been received, the colors will be presented, followed by the presentation of the honorary colonel. After this will come the grand march and the Officers Only Dance, for which the R. O. T. C. band will play.

Refreshments will be served at 10:30. The College Club Orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing.

Twenty-five privates will be chosen from the unit to act as guards of honor.

"Creighton University has never had an absolutely formal military ball before and this affair promises to establish a new precedent," said Cadet Colonel Paul Halpine in commenting on the ball.

DR. EWING FIRST IN NEW OPERATING ROOM

With the opening of the new operating room of the St. Joseph Hospital, Thursday, Feb. 2, there was evidenced among the doctors a lively interest to see which one would be the first to use the new room.

Wednesday morning, while conversing with his co-worker, Dr. Ben Ewing, Dr. Nemece was heard to remark, "I will be the first to use the operating room for I have an appointment for a case at eight o'clock tomorrow morning."

Upon arriving with his patient for this operation Thursday morning, Dr. Nemece's aspirations were blasted, for Dr. Ben Ewing announced to him that the patient he had operated on there at six thirty was doing fine.

McGRATH ENTERTAINS AT MEETING OF K. C.

Raymond McGrath, law sophomore, presented as part of the program of entertainment at a special meeting of the Knights of Columbus last Thursday evening a number of banjo selections and songs.

Raymond was on the Pantages circuit, making a three months tour of the Pacific coast last summer. He also entertains at the Ad-Sell restaurant.

BLUE-JAY STAFF MEMBERS

The picture of the Blue-Jay staff members will be taken at the Matsuo Studio, Sunday, Feb. 12, 1928 at 1:30 P. M.

All Clubs should arrange with the editor for their pictures at once.

A PITIFUL WASTE

"Approximately 1,700 'children' who entered the University of Wisconsin during the present school year will not return next fall to enter the sophomore class, Frank O. Holt, registrar, reported to the board of visitors today.

"Members of the board applied the term 'children' when they were advised that these students were being excused from re-entering because they are lacking in ability to climb to the academic level required at an institution of higher learning, because they believed they would find a 'glorified playground' on the campus or because they were truly 'mere children.'"

So runs an Associated Press dispatch from Madison, Wis., under the date-line of Feb. 4. In other words, the University of Wisconsin had come to the conclusion that 60 per cent of its present freshman class is either unworthy of a college education, or is unable to furnish the mental energy necessary to get one. Doubtless this conclusion was reached after careful research and exhaustive consideration. Nevertheless, it seems to point to a pitiful waste of human potentiality.

His first year in college is probably the most dangerous period in the life of the average young man. Up to that time he has never had occasion to think for himself. Food, clothing, and a home have all been provided for him, while his conduct has been regulated by a more or less strict parental government. His hours for study and the courses he must follow have all been set for him by his teachers in high school. Worst of all, perhaps, he has been impressed with the idea that as a high school senior he knows pretty much all there is to know and that he is practically a man.

Then he enters a university. For the first time in his life, perhaps, he is away from the restrictions of his home and must pit his own judgment against the problems that confront him. He must arrange his own diet and care for his own clothing. He must plan his hours for study and decide how much time he may devote to extra-curricular activities. Most of these things he is unable to do, and, as a rule, his first semester is simply and purely a period of orientation.

But, most dangerous of all, he is morally a free agent for the first time, and the pressure of years of parental inhibition frequently leads to an explosion of greater or lesser violence. The wonder is not that this thing occurs, but that so many recover later with only nominal ill effect. In the great majority of cases, here at Creighton, at any rate, the student finally overcomes this flurry of weakness and settles down to serious work.

If our institutions of higher learning are so governed that 60 per cent of those who would receive instruction are unable to hurdle this initial barrier, there is something wrong with our American system of education.

It is not the fault of the universities, perhaps, that so many students come to them unfitted for study. Probably the solution to the problem, when it is found, will lie in the preparatory training university students are required to receive. A year or two of hard work after high school, for instance, might do a great deal to broaden the future student's outlook and discipline his mind.

Nowadays the benefits of a college education are admitted on every hand. Regardless of where the fault lies, those students who fail to receive a thorough training for life must enter the world handicapped.

In this day and age economy has become a creed. If we squander at the waste of minutes and pennies, how much more serious is the waste of the most precious commodity in the world—human life?

WHAT NEXT?

The University Daily Kansan, of Kansas university, soberly prints the announcement that "risks upon students being called on in recitation are taken by a small Minnesota insurance company." If this is true—and we do not doubt the veracity of the Daily Kansan in the least—a new era is opened to unlucky college students.

It goes without saying that such a policy cannot but interest every university man in the country. Doubtless the Minnesota company, encouraged by a rush of applications, will widen its field, whereupon policies may be obtained insuring the holder against disastrous meetings with the dean, failure to make the football squad, inability to secure a date for the Prom, fraternity initiations, or taking a job on the college paper. The company might even go so far as to employ an actuary to figure the value of a college education in dollars and cents, and insure freshmen against flunking out before graduation.

The only drawback to the scheme is that the high mortality rate would call for a correspondingly high premium and most college students find it hard enough to scrape together enough cash to take care of tuition, board, room and cigarettes. Then, too, tempted by the thought of the indemnity, many students might give up the ship in mid-stream, so to speak. But to a company able to insure against unwelcome recitations, such details would be mere insignificant trifles, say we.

THE RIFLE TEAM

The Creighton rifle team, instead of being an ROTC affair as most students believe, is as much a University organization as the basketball team.

Crack shots from the entire school are asked to drop in at the range in the south part of the stadium and try their luck this week. Those men who make the best pre-contest showing are selected to represent the school in official league contests.

There are dozens of men in Creighton University who can shoot with the best of them. Why not turn your skill to your school's advantage?

The Social Whirl

(Address all communications to Gene Mari Vana, Creighton Commerce College.)

Frederick A. Breeze, Dental junior, celebrated his twenty-first birthday with one of the most enjoyable parties of the season Thursday evening, Feb. 2, in the auditorium of the Rex Baking Co., Forty-fifth and Farnam streets. Fifty couples attended.

Among his classmates present were John T. Ambrose, Edwin T. Ashby, James O. Brown, Philip D. Bruce, Henry F. Greving, Leonard A. Haen, Al Russell, and Clarence J. Schroeder.

Dancing and bridge occupied the evening, which was brought to a close at midnight with an informal dinner.

Delta Kappa Delta

"Tommy" Grogan entertained the fellows the other evening by showing a number of real good punches. James Kerper and Robert Emmet have formally pledged Delta Kappa Delta. Kerper moved out to the house last week.

"Butch" Maher, who has spent the last few weeks at St. Joseph's hospital, is back with us again and is getting along "as well as can be expected."

Bert Bennet left for St. Joseph, Mo., where he will work for the state. He intends to continue his work at Creighton later on.

The annual Pan-Hellenic informal dance is being planned for the near future. W. B. McCarthy, senior law student, is in charge.

Grand Regent Dr. W. B. Phillips, PHC, LLB, professor of ethics and law at the University of California, visited Monday at the Kappa Psi fraternity house when he gave helpful suggestions towards improvement of fraternal life. Dr. Phillips recently returned from Washington, D. C., where he tried a case under Commissioner Doran.

Approximately fifty-five members of the French Club were present for the club picture at Matsuo's studio Tuesday, Feb. 7, including Dr. A. A. Klammer and Dr. S. A. Hoske. This is the first club picture to be taken this year.

MARQUETTE HEAD

Rev. Wm. Magee, S. J., was made president of Marquette University recently.

Rev. W. J. Grace, S. J., entertained the members of the University Faculty at a smoker Tuesday, Feb. 7.

The members of the German Club will dance tonight, Wed. evening, Feb. 8, in the North Club room of the gym. The party will start about 8:30 and from present indications it promises to be a success. Refreshments will be served in the latter part of the evening.

WYNE PLANS FOR CLASS TRACK MEET

Plans for an indoor intra-mural track meet, which is to include all the regulation indoor events, are being formulated by track coach Chet Wynne. It is hoped to have one team representing each department of the university.

Coach Wynne urges that a group of men interested in the movement should get together in each college and appoint a manager. The managers are then to confer with him as soon as possible, with a view to setting the date and the number of events of the meet.

Teams may use the gym for practice purposes any time after 4:30 p. m. Freshmen tracksters are to be eligible for the meet.

North Dakota State college is the only school in North Dakota and South Dakota that has a college photographer of their own.

FIRE STOPS GAME

Maguire and Tracy Save Gym From Destruction

The Soph Arts-Junior Arts tussle of the intramural basketball league was in full swing at the gym Thursday night, Feb. 2nd, when suddenly Francis "Mickey" Maguire, who had been an interested spectator, shouted, "fire, fire!"

The game stopped. "Where?" queried the combatants as one man.

"Over there, under the running track," panted Maguire; "c' mon Tracy, call the fire department." "Aw, we can put out that little bonfire ourselves," retorted Tracy, "let's get a bucket of water."

Suiting action to the word, the bucket of water was procured and duly poured on the blaze. "Fire's out," pronounced Maguire.

But Father Corboy didn't think so when he was called to view the scene of the late conflagration, and the Omaha fire department was called.

"An overheated radiator did it," said the fire chief, after a goodly portion of the floor was chopped out and the rest of it was a miniature lake, "but anyway your fire's out."

"We saved the Gym for Saturday's game," crowed "Mickey."

YEARS ago, P.A. showed a clean pair of heels to the field of smoking-tobaccos. It has maintained its lead ever since putting more distance behind it every year. There must be a reason why P.A. is the world's largest-selling brand.

There is! Open a tidy red tin and get a full breath of that class-by-itself fragrance. Then tamp a load into the bowl of your pipe and light up. The first pull tells you why more men smoke P.A. than any other brand. Cool and smooth and mellow and mild—not for one pipe-load, but always. Try this long-burning tobacco, Fellows. You'll say so!

Schabie's Bluejays Take Pair of Hard Contests From Scrappy Iowa Quintets

BEAT PIONEERS IN HOT, CLOSE GAME

The Grinnell college Pioneers came to Omaha last Saturday evening determined to pluck the Bluejay's feathers and nearly accomplished that very thing, for after the smoke of the battle had cleared away Schabie's men had barely emerged victorious in a close 24-19 struggle.

The contest was the fastest and most spectacular witnessed on the Blue court this year. Play was close throughout and the triumph was gained only by a splendid spurt in the dying moments of the game.

The first period was a nip-and-tuck affair, Corcoran's two field goals just before the gun giving the Jays a 11-6 advantage at the half.

At the start of the second period the Pioneers tore through the Blue defense with a fast, short passing attack to knot the score at 14 all. Kampf then put the Jays ahead again with a field goal and a gift toss.

This lead was short lived, however, for after Grinnell had cashed in on another free throw, Fail, the sensational red-head, sank one from mid-court to bring the count at 17 apiece. Not to be outdone, Honest Joe Beha duplicated his feat and from then on Creighton was never headed.

Kampf was high point man for the Bluejays, with 6 points, while Capt. Davis, with 4, was high for the Grinnell five. Twenty-three fouls were called during the contest, two men of each team going out on personals.

LONG RANGE SHOTS SAVE KOHAWK TILT

The Creighton Bluejay's ability to register long range goals enabled them to defeat the Coe college five 40-36, in a last game played at Cedar Rapids, Ia., last Tuesday, Jan. 31.

The Jays got off to a flying start in the first minute of play when Kampf sank two field goals in rapid succession. This lead was short lived, however, for the major portion of the game was played on even terms.

Play in the first period was featured by the work of Harry Trautman at center and Kampf, forward, who was forced to leave the game before the half because of four personals, while the final session sparkled with the close guarding of Beha and the offensive work of Deising.

Diesing of Creighton and Capt. Hubbard of Coe grabbed off the scoring honors of the evening with 12 points each. Jensen, at center, was a constant threat to the Kohawks, sinking two goals during the time that he was in.

FROSH CAGERS BEAT U. P. A. C. FIVE, 24-18

Coach Trautman's yearlings defeated the fast Union Pacific A. C. five in the preliminary game Saturday night at the Creighton gym, 24-18. The half ended with the Frosh on the short end of a 9-8 score. They tightened up, however, in the second period and held the Railroaders scoreless for the first ten minutes of play.

McCabe, lanky center, was the outstanding player of the game, making 16 of the Frosh's 24 points. Robertson and Leahy showed up best for the U. P. quintet.

VARSITY TRACKSTERS PREPARE FOR RELAYS

Rounding into form a scant ten days before the Kansas City Athletic Club Relays, Feb. 13, the Bluejay tracksters are beginning to show promise of brilliant feats to come.

Time trials were on the menu last week, Coach Wynne pairing off the speedsters and racing them in separate heats of the 440. In these, Capt. Flint, the veteran Bryon Reed, and Tom Hollenbeck excelled; Reed and Hollenbeck being timed at 56.2 and 56 even, respectively, while Flint set a record for the season, circling the distance in 54.2.

Barron, running alone, without extending himself turned in a clocking of an even 57 seconds.

Coach Chet Wynne plans to enter a mile relay team, the sprints and possibly the distance events at the K. C. meet. Creighton's opponents in the relay will be the Oklahoma Aggies and Drake.

MARQUETTE, BUTLER DISCUSS CONFERENCE

Milwaukee, Wis.—Possibility of a midwestern collegiate athletic conference, composed of schools at present unattached or soon to be unaffiliated, grew a step nearer here this week-end as Butler university and Marquette university athletic authorities conferred in regard to the matter.

Marquette and Butler have been mentioned prominently in talk of the new conference, and with these two schools meeting in basketball here Saturday night, Athletic Director Patsy Clark of Butler came to Milwaukee to discuss the matter with Athletic Director C. M. Jennings of Marquette.

ELEVEN CANDIDATES OUT FOR FROSH TRACK

Rounding well into the fourth week of practice, interest in freshmen track continues to mount, until now there are eleven frosh pounding the planks each night. Dille, Dorwart, Clancy, Dunley, Burbridge, Forman, Hushaw, Mertz, Pugh, Stannard and Skow are all the men that are showing real flash and form.

Clancy, of Charles City, Iowa, is the scintillating light in the layout. Another man who will no doubt give an account of himself is Fred Hushaw, Pisgah, Ia.

THE DOPE BUCKET

By "LEERIC"

Right after the semester exams we craned our necks long but fearfully, to see how many of our basketweavers and tracksters took the count via the scholastic ineligibility route. So far all of the men continue to report for practice, with the exception of Harry Trautman. His loss will be severely felt by Schabinger and the fans. Rumor has it that Les Strawhecker tangled with Beowolf or something in English lit. and was tossed for a goal. Gosh, we hope not!

Some frosh take their basketball so seriously they work overtime. McCabe and Crawford, yearling mainstays, hold down a center and forward post respectively on the K. C. team in the Inter-state loop. Not only that, but between them they range up 27 points in one game, and 44 in another. Either set would have been enough to win that Marquette up-set three weeks ago.

And if anybody thinks that Creighton and Bluejay sports haven't made a great impression on Nebraska, just look at the colors of the 1928 license plates.

If that bus had been filled with Bluejay rooters and had gone to Iowa City, we'll lay ten to one that the course would have been different. Of course—there were a couple of dances we would have had to miss, and anyway, as Fatima says: "What a whale of a difference just a few cents make."

Well, John McMullan came and went, and the dotted line on that football contract is still vacant. If anyone sees a good line coach running about loose, send him around and we'll look him over.

From comparative scores, that St. Louis game Saturday shouldn't be such a pipe. Creighton beat Oregon State by a lone marker, and St. Louis won from them by the same margin. However, if the Bluejay five-man defense succeeds in covering the flashy Billiken attack, Creighton should add another win to the files. St. Louis has averaged 38 points a game, which indicates some extraordinary basket shooting.

BRANDEIS—To neglect to attend "Tommy" is to fail to see one of the highwater marks, with which past and future offerings will be compared. This comedy allows the boys a glimpse into the ways and means adopted by parents to marry off their daughter to the fellow whom they select.

It is hard to conceive the major roles being better handled. John Holden plays the title role; Mr. and Mrs. Thurber are cleverly portrayed by William F. Thompson, and Clair Sinclair, and they provoke well-earned laughter. As the sole level-headed person of the household, Boyd Irwin acts with his usual excellence. Helen Tucker is back in the cast this week and lends her radiance to the part of Marie Thurber, who resists her parents' efforts to clinch an engagement. Alexander Lockwood, Arlene Krantz, and Jack Marloe complete the cast.

Here is a well-constructed play, mirthful and interesting throughout and suitably acted. What more is wanted?

—A. L. M.

ORPHEUM—Lucille LaVerne affords Orpheum patrons this week the finest dramatic treat that theater has offered since its opening.

In a miniature version of her play, "Sun Up," this noted star enacts the part of a staunch-hearted, old moun-

Switches Back to Favorite Tobacco

Peoria, Ill. Aug. 26, 1926

Messrs. Larus & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va.

Dear Sirs:

Just a confession and an appreciation. A number of years ago I was a user of your Edgeworth smoking tobacco. But like some others, perhaps, I was led by alluring advertisements to change.

A few days ago I went into a drug store to get some tobacco, and on the case was the familiar can of Edgeworth. I bought it and since then I have enjoyed old-time comfort.

So my confession is that I made a mistake in changing to other brands, and my appreciation is such that Edgeworth will be my Smoke Pal while life lasts, which may not be long, for I have passed my "three score years and ten."

Very truly yours,
(signed) E. P. Fishburn

Edgeworth Extra High Grade Smoking Tobacco

taineer woman brought to sorrow when her only son dies in the war, and to rebellion against law when the son of her husband's murderer deserts the army and seeks protection in her cabin. The very capable supporting cast of five people contribute to the excellent caliber of the piece.

Boyle and Della are two wops using the old gag of "planting" one member in the audience. Their absurd dialect antics produced enough laughs, and their banjo-playing enough appreciation to stop the show, however.

Pagan is a very attractive young lady who plays pleasing violin selections, and Gus Fowler, the "watch king," produces numberless timepieces from the conventional derby and sleeve. Pasquali Brothers open with some unusual tumbling and head balancing, and Russ Brown and Jean Whitaker have a wise-cracking session that's really funny.

On the screen is "On to Reno," a comedy of married life, starring Marie Prevost, supported by Cullen Landis.

—B. B.

RIALTO—We've heard a lot of jazz singers, but we've never heard anyone put a song over like Al Jolson does, the boy with the tear in his voice. As Elinor Glyn says, Al has more "IT" than anyone else in the whole world.

And Al's singing through Vitaphone is just one of the reasons why no one can afford to miss "The Jazz Singer," a picture that lays its finger where your heart beats. The story of the little boy, descended from five generations of cantors, who wants to sing "Mammy" songs in the theater rather than hymns in the synagogue will appeal, not only to the Jewish people, but to every man, woman and child who is alive. The supporting class, which includes May McAvoy as the Girl; Eugenie Besserer as the Mother, and Warner Oland as the Father, is excellent.

Postpone the haircut for next week, stall the landlady if necessary, but don't miss "The Jazz Singer." There are some good Vitaphone acts, too.

—R. Z.

SUN—You probably know the story of "The Student Prince," the story of Karl Heinrich, heir to the throne of Germany, who goes to the University of Heidelberg, where the students drink a quart of real beer between every class, and where he falls hopelessly, madly, gloriously in love with Kathi, the golden-haired bar-maid.

You probably know the music from "The Student Prince," too, the buoyancy and spirit of "The Drinking Song" and the aching beauty of "Deep in My Heart." Knowing these things, you have probably guessed that "The Student Prince" brings to the screen one of the sweetest love stories ever told.

Ramon Navarro plays the prince with a boyishness and ardor that makes us love him and feel terribly sorry for him. Norma Shearer, as Kathi, is as sweet and fresh as a florist's window in April. And Jean Hersholt, as Dr. Juttner, Karl's tutor and friend, is so real that we could almost brush the cigarette ashes off his frock-coat.

—R. Z.

WORLD—Something should be done about Blossom Seeley's singing. It's illegal. She makes us want to leave home. She and her partner, Benny Fields, are on the Vitaphone program, along with Martinielli and others. Movietone, reproducing the speeches of Senator Heflin, Senator Robinson, and Bossy Gillis, causes a lot of excitement out in the audience.

The John Gilbert picture, "Man, Woman, and Sin" is as exciting as it sounds.

If laughs are fattening, there are at least a million calories in the vaudeville bill this week. Joe and Willie Hale are two jugglers who have a good time playing around the stage, and Russell and Armstrong go over big with their comedy. Crouch and Moore with their rural episode and Jack Marcus and Co. both have averagely good acts. "The Good Ship Song" and dance is skillfully navigated by Bert Collins and Co., headliners, who give dances a la Russia, Spain, Ireland, Holland and Black Bottom.

—R. Z.

BLUEJAYS TO MEET MISSOURI TEAMS

The next Creighton invasion will be a jaunt down to the "show me" state where Coach Schabinger's laddies will engage St. Louis university next Saturday evening, Feb. 11, and the Hilliard A. C. at St. Joseph on the following Monday.

The Billikens this year are represented by a powerful offensive team, averaging 30 points a game so far and turning in victories over such quints as the Oregon Aggies and Washington University.

"Ham" Strong, forward, is the Billikens big scoring threat followed closely by Oldfield, another forward. Drury, a great floor man, holds down the pivot position while Anderson and Flynn, the stocky football quarter, are the guards.

Little mention need be made of the Hilliards. The last year's National Amateur Champs are back with the same lineup and will no doubt furnish the Jays with the fastest competition of the season.

They hold decisive victories over the same Sioux City five which has taken the measure of the Omaha Athletic club quint twice this season.

EXCHANGES

THE FROSH

Give him a headgear. None to spare? Then weave me a wreath for his tousled hair;

He has won that wreath by all that's fair.

He has plunged and tackled and played the game;

He has gone in battered and limped out lame;

He has lifted the varsity up to fame.

He has made the varsity fast and strong;

He has put the tackles where they belong;

He has taught the forwards where they were wrong.

And the sum of his aches and all his pains

Is shown as the fleeting season wanes in the way 'the varsity backfield gains.

Thus it has been through the long, long year;

The varsity hero receives the cheer;

The lot of the Frosh is one long jeer.

And that is the reason—foolish dream

That I nominate, though you laugh and scream

The Frosh for the all-American team.

Pep organizations were cut out in Missouri Valley conference by athletic departments at annual meeting, recently. Clipping from "Kansas U" reads:

Maintaining that pep organizations in general are guilty of not living up to the purposes for which they were formed and that they are a disappointment to the athletic departments which originally sponsored them, Dr. F. C. Allen today explained why support has been withdrawn from the pep organizations of the Missouri valley.

CURTAIN TALKS

Omaha witnessed important changes in the managerial staffs of two leading theaters last week. At the Brandeis the popular Boyd Irwin takes charge of the stock company, which will henceforth be known as the Brandeis Players. William C. Walsh, Dora Clemant, William F. Thompson, and Wesley Givens will leave the troupe Feb. 18.

At the Riviera, Manager A. G. Stolte has secured an extended leave due to ill-health, and will be succeeded by Harry Watts, formerly manager of the Rialto here. Nate Frudenfeld, publicity director, merited a substantial promotion in his transfer to Des Moines, where he takes complete charge of the Capitol theater, an important link in the Public chain.

Thursday is Jimmy Ellard's last day in Omaha. He also goes to the Capitol in Des Moines, and will be succeeded Friday at the Riviera by Paul Spor. Paul is at present doing the ceremony stunt in the Iowa capitol, but will head for Omaha Thursday night. Jimmy and Paul, on opposite bound trains, will pass each other somewhere in Iowa... wonder where?

Jimmy is not going for good, however, as it is planned to rotate him with Paul every twelve weeks. Thus he'll be back in Omaha in May, just before exams.

John Gilbert is appearing at the World this week for the first time in the picture, "Man, Woman, and Sin." Hitherto the Sun has always presented his films.

Harry Carey, once the cow-boy idol of the screen, will be at the Orpheum in person starting Sunday. The clowning Joe Browning will be on the same bill.

CONGRATULATIONS, RAY

RETURN TO GEORGETOWN

Don Schwertley and Parnel Quinn, former Creighton law students, have returned to their studies at Georgetown university after spending the holidays here.

DR. RUSSUM ADDRESSES MEETING

Dr. Carl B. Russum, professor of pathology in the Creighton Medical school, spoke on the "Presentation of Pathological Specimens" at the meeting of the Omaha-Douglas County Medical society, Tuesday evening, Jan. 10, at the auditorium of the Medical Arts building.

ALLEN IN CHICAGO

Eddie Allen, former Creighton gridster and all-conference end for two successive years, is now holding a position with the Standard Oil company in Chicago.

Allen still hopes to finish his law course, and may enter the Columbia university law school next semester.

It's a College Trained Pen!

More Students Use It Than Any Other Kind—and if you paid double you couldn't improve on it

Want a pen for lifelong use?—$7 buys it; $5, if you want a smaller size. Because of Parker's Non-Breakable Permanent Barrels these pens have been thrown from airplanes 3,000 feet aloft without damage.

Want ease of writing?—Parker Duofold's famous Pressureless Touch, due to a fine ink channel ground between the prongs of the point (bringing capillary attraction to the aid of gravity feed) is greatest writing improvement in years.

And Permanent, while Non-Breakable, makes Duofolds 28% lighter in weight than when made with rubber as formerly.

Why do most college students use it?—try it yourself and know.

5 flashing colors. 3 sizes for men and women. Six graduated points—one to fit your hand exactly.

Look for imprint, "Geo. S. Parker" on each pen. Pencils, too, in colors to match pens. See a Parker dealer now.
