My Own Dear Girl,

Really Honey I haven't much to write about to-night, Only I know I feel some what different than I did last night, I sure wish I could see you to-night, and in fact I wish I could see you anytime that I wanted to. You are such a dear sweet girl, I just got through studying my lesson, for to morrow, I had pretty good luck at school to day and so that makes me feel better. I was talking to Dr Betz this evening and he told me that I should open up an office in Omaha instead of down here, Every body I see gives me some advice.

But what good does it do when one does not even know whether or not he is going to get through school,

Honey I can hardly wait until Friday so that I can get to see you and be with you here.

I hope it gets warmer the last part of this week, as I sure am not stuck on this cold weather.

I sure have caught an awful cold the first one I have had this winter, Well darling as I haven't much to write about I will wait until I see you Friday then I can talk to you.

Good Bye my Sweetheart.

Lots of love & kisses

Elmer.
